EVERYTHING IS HARMONY in the political camps, at least on the outside. Everybody loves everybody else, and will work to elect him. Defeated candidates are pleased with their defeats, and pray for the men that beat them.

JUST HOW AMERICANS of Catholic faith feel about the religious fight in the Democratic convention remains to be seen.

Many feel that Catholics hitherto voting the Democratic ticket may decide to rebuke that religious intolerance at the polls. But party loyalty and political habit are strong, and annoyances are soon forgotten.

If Al Smith runs for Governor, doing what he can to help Davis carry New York State, and putting into the campaign the liberal fund that his friends always raise for him, it will indicate that Catholic voters hold no grudge.

NEWSPAPERS OF HIGH finance tell you solemnly that La Follette will raise a campaign fund of five millions. Is it not shocking to think of La Follette "buying his way into the White House?"

Instead of buying votes for himself, La Follette will get many votes supposed to be securely bought for the old parties.

Richard Croker said, "There's no use dealing with Socialists and Radicals. Even if you give them what they want, they'll double cross you and vote for their own man."

LA FOLLETTE'S CHOICE of a vice-presidential candidate is puzzling him and his friends. It's amazing how few among 112,000,000 names can be mentioned that would add strength to a ticket—any ticket.

Few men in these days of money collecting do anything that has any real meaning for their fellow citizens. Justice Brandeis would add 100 per cent. to the strength of any ticket. But he would not leave his important work.

TODAY A CLERGYMAN of Berkeley, near Detroit, is found after several days' absence, dazed, unable to give an account of himself, with letters K. K. K. Branded on his back. How they were branded, whether with fire or merely painted on, is not told.

There will be much excitement about that, although at this writing nothing is known of the case beyond the statement that the Rev. Oran Van Loon was not hostile to the Ku Klux Klan and had, on the contrary, made them welcome to his church.

The Klan suggests that he was lured away and branded by the Klan's enemies to injure the Klan.

"THE JAPANESE will seek to shift trade from the United States to Mexico." That is revenge for our law against Asiatic immigration. Let the trade shift, this country will not resent it.

Whatever helps any part of this continent helps us. Eventually, the Japan, which exclude the Chinese most vigorously from Japan, will take a different view of our laws. They will realize that we really OWN the United States and are not holding the land in trust until the day when Asia shall decide to overrun it.

A RELIGIOUS PAPER, the Christian Century, is worried because the Japanese have set a national "hate day," devoted to teaching Japanese children to hate the United States, because of a national insult. Says the religious paper: "There will be a good many Americans who will hardly feel proud that the course of their Nation, for whatever cause, has given birth to such a day of direful potent."

IT IS NOT quite as bad as all that. Guy Fawkes day in England does not mean much now, although they do explore the House of Commons once a year for gunpowder. And the Germans taught us, according to superheated patriotism, that hymns or days of hate do not pay.

KLANSMEN STONED BY MOB

Berlin, Mass., July 14.—Two hundred members of the Ku Klux Klan in this section are marked men.

They wear scars on their faces—their scalps are lacerated and they bear severe bruises on the body—all suffered near Brewer road at the conclusion of a klavern of the local clan.

A barrage of stones laid down by a small army of young men concealed along the roadside inflicted the injuries on the klansmen.

MEMBERS GATHERED.

News of the meeting of the Klan spread about the countryside and while the members of the hooded order were holding their gathering in a field the young men from Clinton, Southboro and Hudson lay in wait along the road, off the field.

Piles of rock were gathered together while the klansmen were busy with their pow-wow. The youths organized their attack and arrangements were completed when the fire automobile carrying the klansmen left the field.

A shower of rocks descended on the machine. The windshield was broken—the klansmen inside were showered with flying glass, while the show of stones inflicted injuries that to a number of the occupants of the car proved all but fatal.

TRAIL OF BLOOD.

As machine after machine drew out of the field the same treatment was accorded the klansmen. The marksmanship of the hidden stone throwers was excellent. Not a few of the klansmen were knocked unconscious by the missles.

When the last of the machines left the field there was a trail of blood along the roadside—blood left behind by the fleeing klansmen.

In addition to showering rocks on the klansmen the attacking party also secured the registration numbers of the machines. These registrations were issued to residents of Maynard, South Acton, West Acton, Bolton, Clinton, Berlin, Westboro, Marlboro and Hudson.

AMERICAN TO PROVIDE BEACH LIFE GUARDS

BATHING WILL BE MADE SAFE FOR THESE BOSTON KIDDIES

The Boston American's volunteer life saving corps, to be organized at once, is to guard the lives of children like those pictured above who daily throng the beaches from Head House, City Point, to Tenean Beach, near Neponset, and who have heretofore been placed in peril through the lack of guards furnished by the city. Inset shows Capt. Jack Wallace of the Metropolitan Chapter of the American Red Cross, expert swimmer and life saver, who is to train the American's volunteers in the art of rescuing drowning persons and resuscitation methods as taught by the American Red Cross, which organization has offered to assist in the work. Tests and coaching will be given at Magazine Beach.

$40,000 FIRE AT FARM SCHOOL IN DANVERS

Danvers, July 14.—The home-making department building of the Essex County Agricultural School at Hathorne was destroyed today by fire that started in the kitchen, presumably from an oil stove.

It was discovered by Edwin Carter, janitor, who sounded the alarm.

Carter's mustache was singed off while he was trying to stop the blaze. Miss May Elliott, the housekeeper, was forced to flee from the building.

The eaves of the boys' new dormitory in the rear caught fire, but the building was not very badly damaged. The school was not in session. The building is insured. The loss is estimated at $40,000.

Swimmers Urged to Volunteer Services

With an efficient, expert life-saving corps of its own, the Boston American will protect the lives of men, women and children bathers at the Boston beaches.

From the Headhouse at City Point to Tenean Beach, near Neponset, the long stretch of delightful bathing beach will be patrolled, each section of beach with its own volunteer life-guard corps.

The other great beaches in the metropolitan district also will be provided with similar volunteer guards.

PROTECTION FOR TOTS.

This will be done in the interest of hundreds of thousands of persons, especially the children and their anxious parents, whose only way of enduring the Summer heat is to bathe in the cool waters of the bay.

The American Red Cross, represented in this case by the efficient Boston Metropolitan Chapter, was requested to assist this newspaper and has readily and eagerly assented. The Chapter is working side by side with the American in this great humanitarian endeavor.

Every Boston American life-guard also will be a fully qualified Red Cross life-saver. The Red Cross life-saving test, which the American guards will be required to pass, is the strictest test in the world.

VOLUNTEERS SOUGHT.

Beginning today the American requests the swimmers, men and women, boys and girls of Greater Boston, to volunteer their services, to patrol the beaches where they

The airmen were escorted by a squadron of French army airplanes in military formation. They were received by Laurent Eynac, Under-secretary of the French Air Ministry.

SINCLAIR MUST FACE CHARGES OF CONTEMPT

Washington, July 14.—Six of the ten contempt counts in the indictment of Harry F. Sinclair for contempt of the Senate were sustained today in the Supreme Court of the District of Columbia.

Justice Hoehling ruled out questions asked of Sinclair about the alleged contribution of Sinclair Consolidated stock to Will H. Hays or someone representing the Republican National Committee, and transfer of funds from the National Park Bank of New York to the National Metropolitan Bank of Washington, as not pertinent.

The judge also made the same decision on the final count which charged Sinclair with refusing to answer any questions.

Sinclair was given twenty days to plead again.

In view of the far reaching questions involved, Justice Hoehling made the date for Sinclair's next move twenty days ahead so that if he desired he would have reasonable opportunity to apply to the court of appeals for the allowance of a special appeal.

This procedure, it was said, would expedite the final decision by the Supreme Court of the United States where the case ultimately is expected to be settled.

'ALIEN' BABY BARS OUT MOTHER

Somerville Woman Whose Child Was Born Abroad Not Allowed to Enter the U. S.

Because she is "accompanied by an alien," Mrs. Filomena Barbara of No. 415 Somerville avenue, Somerville, has been barred from returning to the United States.

The alien is a small and black eyed baby born to the pretty young Somerville woman during a visit to her mother's home in Italy.

To his mother he is Malio, the most remarkable youngster in the world; but to the immigration officials who watch America's front door he is "Case 1,000,005," or something like that.

They have ruled that he is in excess of the Italian quota, hard as it may be to conceive of Malio as in excess of anything.

The Barbaras are detained at Ellis Island, New York, and indications are that they will be sent back to Italy.

ASK AID OF PRAYERS.

Yesterday, when she went to mass on the Island, Mrs. Barbara led a little battalion of mothers who are in much the same case, facing separation from their families because of some quirk of the law which knows no mother.

All carried babies, according to advices from New York this morning.

During the communion, they held their children in their arms and prayed earnestly to the highest authority of all that their troubles might be ended and they might be admitted to the United States.

Mrs. Barbara is twenty-four years old, and has spent most of her life

$25,000 Bail Is Set After Arraignment Before United States Commissioner

Lowell, July 14.—J. Harry Boardman, cashier of the old Lowell National Bank, was arrested today on charges of misappropriating $70,630 of the bank's funds.

He waived a preliminary examination before a United States commissioner and was held for the federal district court in $25,000 bonds.

The arrest was made on complaint of Norwin S. Bean, federal bank examiner at Boston, under whose direction an examination of the bank's books was completed recently.

$4,000,000 ST. LOUIS BANK QUITS BUSINESS

St. Louis, July 14.—The Republic National Bank, with resources of about $4,000,000, according to the last published statement, today closed its doors. The board of directors decided to liquidate because the bank was losing money.

The bank was organized in 1921 by William Sacks, wealthy oil operator. Sacks is under Federal indictment on a charge of using the mails to defraud as a trustee of the United Home Builders of America.

F. J. BURRELL TO RUN FOR STATE JOB AGAIN

Fred J. Burrell of Medford, who resigned under fire as State Treasurer during President Coolidge's administration as Governor, again seeks the Republican nomination for that office.

In announcing his candidacy, Burrell stated that the treasurership is the most important office within the gift of the people.

"It should be filled by a man who, from his own sad experience, has learned the treachery of the great banking oligarchy that is forever attempting to gain control of the State's finances," he declared.

In addition to Burrell, four others are in the field for the Republican nomination. They are: Senator William S. Youngman of Brighton, Horace A. Keith of Brockton, Harry Brown of Reading and James W. Bean of Cambridge.

LIQUOR FOR FOREIGN EMBASSIES ARRIVES

A sizable quantity of valuable liquors which are en route to three foreign embassies at Washington, arrived aboard the Leyland Line steamer Barbadian, Captain Bolton, from Antwerp and London.

The liquors will not be taken from the ship here, but will be discharged at Baltimore when the vessel arrives there.

Asks Court to Stop Neighbor's Dog from Barking

Trenton, N. J., July 14—August Bianchi, of [illegible] near Paterson, has asked for a court injunction restraining the dog of his neighbor, Antonio Ricci, from barking.

According to the complaint the dog has been barking incessantly since last April.

Bianchi declares that his nerves are close to the breaking point. He expresses fear that the general health of his family may soon be seriously affected unless the animal is muzzled.

AUTO DRIVERS ARE KEPT IN PRISON

Out of a total of 2,415 prisoners released during the year from the various State institutions by the board of parole, only sixteen were recommitted because of crime.

In acquainting Commissioner of Correction Sanford Bates with the fact, the Board states that it is a very good showing considering the industrial conditions.

Of those released, 1,508 were serving sentences for drunkenness. But none of these men, the report stresses particularly, had been sentenced for driving a motor vehicle while under the influence of liquor or for operating in a manner to endanger the lives and safety of the public.

The report says:

"The board knows of no case where a man has been paroled on a sentence for either of these offences."

Permission to leave the State, under proper supervision of other States, was granted to 109 paroled prisoners.

CASINO AGAIN PUTS NEWPORT ON MAP

Newport, R. I., July 14—For years Bailey's Beach here has been the stamping ground of the socially elite, while Newport Beach has been the Mecca of the less favored thousands. To have mentioned Newport Beach to one of the "Four Hundred" would have caused an aristocratic nose to turn up in scorn.

Today all that is changed. Because Newport Beach has been beautified as much as the Beach Association and $350,000 could do it. Fine brick buildings have replaced the dilapidated wooden structures. The Casino and Baths just completed is said to be the finest and most complete structure of its kind in America.

HUB 7TH IN PORT EXPORT TONNAGE

Washington, July 14—A survey of water-borne traffic completed by the Shipping Board's bureau of research and made public discloses that nearly 127,000,000 tons of freight, exclusive of coastwise commerce, was handled by American ports during the year ended last December 31.

The export total is more than 6,000,000 tons greater than in 1922 and the total water-borne foreign commerce 4,000,000 tons greater.

More than 55 percent of this total passed through six ports. New York led with 27,600,000 tons and the next in order were Los Angeles, 11,495,000 tons; Baltimore, 8,360,000; New Orleans, 8,250,000; Philadelphia, 7,870,000, and San Francisco, 5,740,000. Boston handled 3,801,000.

Stewart, twenty, a nurse at the New England Hospital, when it leaped upon the sidewalk during a wild flight on Columbus avenue, was arraigned in the Roxbury Court today before Judge Hayden, charged with manslaughter, operating an automobile so as to endanger public safety and driving off without making himself known.

Silva pleaded not guilty and the case was set for trial July 22.

Silva was arrested by Sergeant McDonough of the Dudley street station after Archie Friendbird of Homestead street, Roxbury, pursued the speeding car and brought the police to the scene when Silva stopped to fix a tire.

FOUR DEAD; 28 HURT.

The death of Miss Stewart brought the Sunday toll from auto accidents in Greater Boston to four deaths and twenty-eight injuries, many of them serious. The remaining deaths are: Edwin Pelky, No. 53 Linden street, Dorchester; Charles Boardman of Haverhill and Carl Anderson, No. 254 Clyde street, Brookline.

Pelky was killed when a car driven madly along Nahant road by Charles Houston of Lynn, skidded and crashed into one driven by John Cunniffe, No. 20 New Park street, Lynn, in which Pelky was a passenger.

Cunniffe, his wife, Flora, and his niece, Miss Isabel Campbell of Wakefield, were injured. Miss Gladys Tibbetts, Malden Hospital nurse, who was bathing nearby, rushed to the scene of the crash and administered first aid to the victims.

AT LYNN HOSPITAL.

Houston and his passengers, William Ralph and Frank Foley, of Eastern avenue, and Ray Newhall, Union street, all of Lynn, were taken to the Lynn Hospital.

Six members of two families were injured when their automobile skidded and overturned in Charlestown. The injured are Edward Williams of Chelsea street, Charlestown, his wife, and Adeline, his daughter; Mr. and Mrs. William Lezy and their daughter, Ruth, of Crawford street, Roxbury.

CONSULATE STORMED IN ALIEN LAW MIXUP

Manchester, Eng., July 14.—An unfortunate misunderstanding has led to extraordinary scenes at the United States Consul's office here.

A report became general that, as the new visa act came into operation July 1, visas would be obtainable at once by all who have booked passage. In consequence men and women came long distances, some travelling all night, and there were people on the doorstep at 2 o'clock in the morning.

The Consul was helpless. He could only tell the people it was a complete misunderstanding, and they must return home and await further instructions.

Two husky boarders who saw some smoke curling out from under a closet door in their place at No. 453 Water street, Quincy, rushed out in alarm, running in opposite directions and put in fire alarm calls, acting as a second alarm.

Then the two boarders from a safe distance saw the fire put out by a lone fireman with a small hand fire extinguisher.

Roberts, the selectmen offered a reward of $100 for information leading to the arrest and conviction of those concerned. The town is in a furore. According to officials, the incident is the outcropping of feeling of persons desiring to continue lawlessness, checked by Roberts upon his being hired after being with the military police overseas.

Among the citizens entitled to the ballot are 4,333,111 illiterates, enough to swing any President into office.

The association asserts that the United States army is the only institution successfully inducing adult Americans to learn to read and write. In the army, instruction is obligatory.

3,000 KILLED IN FIGHTING AT SAO PAULO

Federal Forces on Way to Relief of City Are Cut to Pieces

Rio Janeiro, July 14 (A.P.)—So far as it is known here, no Americans have been killed or injured in the fighting in Sao Paulo.

Santos, Brazil, July 14. (A.P.)—Two Americans arriving here after a perilous journey afoot from Sao Paulo estimate the dead among troops and civilians will reach 3,000 as a result of the desperate fighting of the past few days.

The luxurious Hotel Esplanade at Sao Paulo has been turned into a hospital and is said to be crowded with wounded.

Most of the fighting which has been taking place between here and Sao Paulo is said to have been between small bands of rebels and Federal troops.

Refugees confirm the report that 600 federal troops who started last week from Santos to aid in the relief of Sao Paulo were cut to pieces by the insurrectionists.

Governor Da Campos, Sao Paulo State President, is understood to be here in Santos now under federal protection. He is declared to have said that the people of Sao Paulo wanted him to remain as a leader in the insurrection, but he refused to join the movement, whereupon he was permitted to escape from the city.

The rebel forces defending Sao Paulo against the attack of the federal troops are estimated to number 34,000. This number is said to be increasing daily by recruits arriving from nearby regions. The federals at present are estimated to number 24,000, either on hand or enroute.

The continued federal bombardment of Sao Paulo is said to have turned the entire population overwhelmingly to the support of the leaders of the insurrection.

It is declared that military leaders, headed by General Lopez, are preparing to take the offensive against the government by marching on Rio Janeiro, expecting to attract reinforcements en route.

The rebel forces are equipped in all departments, including anti-aircraft guns, airplanes and whippet tanks.

Report Brazil Federals Are Massed at Santos

Washington, July 14.—Reported evacuation of Sao Paulo by the Federal authorities was confirmed in despatches received today by the State Department.

One despatch described the withdrawal of the Federals to Santos, where preparations were well advanced for a renewed attack upon the State capitol.

All means of communication, with stores of arms and ammunition were commandeered by the Federals, the department was informed.

DOUBTS RADIO WAVES CAUSED EXPLOSION

London, July 14 (I.N.S.)—There is no need for alarm at the report that the explosion of the Bucharest Munition Depot was due to the clashing of Hertzian radio waves.

Professor A. M. Low, the scientist, was sceptical today after reading the statement of General Negret, chief signal officer of the Rumanian Army.

"To suggest positively," Professor Low said, "that the explosion was caused by clashing radio waves is rash, and on the face it extremely unlikely. Such a happening might be possible thirty years hence, but at the moment wireless science is not sufficiently advanced for it to occur."

BALKED SUITOR TO WAIT FOR HIS LOVE

AMERICAN TO PROVIDE LIFE-SAVERS

ordinarily spend their leisure hours to help protect the lives of the less experienced, the foolhardy, the too ambitious who get beyond their depth, and the unfortunate ones who are attacked with cramps.

Mothers of Greater Boston, alarmed at the lack of a sufficient number of guards at the beaches, as disclosed in the American, have already appealed to this newspaper to do something to protect the lives of their children.

The drowning of young John Paul Faye of South Boston, who sank at Columbus Park beach while the City of Boston guards were patrolling other sections of the beach, and who was beyond human powers of aid when finally reached by a courageous volunteer rescuer, Maurice Dineen, has created a demand for a highly efficient and sufficiently large corps of life-savers.

Any volunteer life-saver who cannot pass the Red Cross test at first will be coached to perfection until he is an able rescuer.

Captain Jack Wallace of the Metropolitan Chapter of the American Red Cross, known to thousands of swimmers in many parts of the country, and known wherever he has worked with swimmers as a representative of the finest type of American athlete, will not only test the volunteers and pass upon their abilities, but will carefully coach them until they can do the work of saving lives practically as well as he himself can.

Captain Jack knows the business, for he has saved so many lives directly, not to mention those he has saved indirectly by coaching and training others to be life guards, that neither he nor his Red Cross chiefs have been able to keep count of the number he has saved.

It is a wonderful opportunity for swimmers to become life-savers. One life saved is a supreme service to humanity and God.

The American plans to make its guards real experts in order that another life may not be endangered by the endeavor of an inexpert guard to save a drowning person. Members of the corps must be experts. Only experts can save human lives in the water.

LOEB'S MURDER TRIAL MAY BE DELAYED

By WILEY S. SCRIBNER.

Chicago, July 14. (Universal) — When Nathan Leopold and Richard Loeb are brought to trail for murder on August 4, the first move of their attorneys is expected to be a motion to postpone the case to a later date. The State is expected to demand an immediate trial.

Insanity will be the main plea of the defence. The State of Illinois will not hang a crazy man for murder. So the trial may be to determine whether Leopold and Loeb are sane or insane.

A dozen alienists, retained by the defence, have had the youths under constant observation for more than a month.

TO SEEK FULL PENALTY.

States Attorney Crowe who will personally conduct the prosecution, has had four alienists for the state examine Leopold and Lomb. But it was a superficial examination lasting only a few hours.

To have the youths sent to an asylum for a few years appears to be the best the defense can hope for, in spite of unlimited wealth and social prominence, according to opinions of lawyers and laymen.

States Attorney Crowe has announced he will prosecute the case with a view to sending the youths to the gallows. Nothing less than hanging will satisfy the State, he contends.

SYMPATHY FOR BOYS.

Public sentiment is divided. The average man on the street will tell you what he thinks will be done with the youths, rather than express an opinion as to what should be done with them.

"You can't hang a man when he's got plenty of money," is the expression most frequently heard. "Had those lads been poor boys, they would have been hanged before this time."

The cry for revenge was strong when the body of little Robert Franks was found on May 22 beneath a culvert on the Penn railroad. The call for justice grew until the identity of the slayers became known. Today the youths are often spoken of with compassion.

'MORE IN LOVE THAN EVER,' SAY SEPARATED STAGE STARS

SWEETEST 'PHASE OF LIFE'

Richard Bennett and "Squaw Man" Wife Find Everything Better in Reunion

New York, July 14 (Universal).—"Both of us love each other more than ever—now. A marriage separation is a success. Try it yourself and see."

The man is Richard Bennett, the star actor of "Damaged Goods" and the wife is Adrienne Morrison of "Squaw Man" success.

Last year in October, after twenty years, more or less, of married life, they decided to separate without a divorce. They hit upon a sort of half-way Fannie Hurst idea.

Today in her apartment in East fifty-fourth street where she lives with her two daughters, Barbara and Constance Bennett, Adrienne had this to say:

"Marriage is a failure! Divorce is disaster! But separation, ah, that's the sweetest phase of life and love."

LOVE IS GREATER

Six blocks north in his bachelor retreat Bennett puffed away at his pipe and soliloquized:

"Divorce? Nonsense. I'd only divorce my wife if I wanted to marry another woman. I don't. I love Adrienne more than ever before. 'Absence makes the heart grow fonder' really means something to me now.

"No, I don't carry a key to my wife's apartment. I don't need to. Nor does she have a latch key to my flat. She doesn't want one. She'd always feel it was up to her to run over and tidy up after me. But one of our daughters keeps things shipshape."

"HATEFUL PUBLICITY."

It was Adrienne who showed another phase of their "happy though married" scheme:

"The experiment has been more of a success than we thought. I hear from Richard every day, but I don't always see him. We have dinner together very often. Richard can come up to the house any time he wants. He's always welcome.

"We are no more separated than we were last October when we evolved our plan. And the courts with their hateful publicity have nothing to do with us."

"I am not Fanny Hursting it."

That reference was to the marriage plan of the noted short story writer, Miss Hurst, after keeping secret her marriage to a composer for several years, finally admitted it but explained that they merely "had breakfast" together once or twice a week.

It was Richard who added the final fitting words:

"No longer are we dubbed as an old married couple that have passed over twenty years in matrimony. We feel like newlyweds on our honeymoon."

COUPLE IN SUICIDE PACT ON GOLF LINKS

Houston, Tex., July 14.—Within a few yards of the Houston municipal golf course fairway, upon which a few twosomes and foursomes still lingered, John Kendrick and his wife shot themselves in a suicide pact. Kendrick is dead. A bullet from a heavy calibre revolver passed through his heart. Mrs. Kendrick was taken to a hospital, a wound in her breast.

SEIZE BROTHERS AS BOOTLEGS AT GUN POINT

Three Wakefield policemen played the role of "Izzy and Moe" today on Tony Carbone and Tony Roce, alleged moonshiners of No. 152 Nahant street.

The trio of liquor sleuths went without sleep to make a "buy" from the two Tonys.

An appointment was made by the "nose man" of the liquor squad for a midnight meeting on Nahant street. There the Tonys appeared with a truck.

A case of Scotch went over the side, the police allege. Meanwhile Tony Roce covered his partner and the officers with a gun. The "clever" officers waited until the transaction was completed before going into action.

They whipped three automatics from three hip pockets covering the two Tonys. They were arrested. As a result of a police station grilling the officers later got a search warrant and raided the premises at No. 152 Nahant street.

There they found a quantity of whiskey, empty quart bottles and a complete labelling and corking outfit, it is charged.

WEDDING TO UNITE TWO OLDEST FAMILIES

Torrington, Conn., July 14.—The engagement of Miss Betty Wolcott Mereshant, daughter of Mrs. Huntington Wolcott Merchant, of Litchfield and New York City, and Philip Gallatin Cammann, son of the late Gallatin Cammann, son of the late York and Tuxedo Park, has been announced. The marriage will unite two of the oldest families in America.

Miss Merchant is a direct descendant of Oliver Wolcott, Secretary of the Treasury under Washington, and a lineal descendant of William Floyd, a signer of the Declaration of Independence.

Mr. Cammann is a grandson of Frederick Gallatin and a great grandson of Albert Gallatin, Secretary of the Treasury under President Madison. He served as a lieutenant in the 102nd Infantry in the World War.

3 MEN AND BOATFUL OF LIQUOR SEIZED

New London, July 14.—Seven hundred cases of liquor were seized and three men arrested charged with smuggling today when the New York Patrol Boat Galilee captured the launch Admiral Schley, three miles south of Bartlett's Reef Lightship. The prisoners gave their names as Charles Carlson, John Anderson and John Oleson, all of New York.

in the country. She was educated in the Russell School at Cambridge.

A month ago they returned, but were stopped at Ellis Island. Paul Barbara, the husband and father, meeting them at the boat and anticipating a happy reunion, was given custody of the little girls, but was told the baby born abroad was an Italian, and not eligible for admission. The mother also was barred.

Barbara has made the usual appeal to the Secretary of Labor, but without result, so far as is known. The mother, and the tiny "alien" who is the cause of her difficulty, are entering upon their fifth week at crowded Ellis Island.

CUSSING COP FINED; THEN LOSES HIS JOB

Stephen J. Sheehan, until today a patrolman attached to the Dudley street station, was fined 10 in the Roxbury Court today for using improper language, loitering and sauntering.

Daniel Mahoney of Greenville street, Roxbury, who caused Sheehan's arrest, declared that Sheehan, while in uniform last Friday, followed him from store to store, vilifying [illegible]. When Mahoney complained of Sheehan, the latter was examined by a police physician and suspended and later arrested. Today he was dropped from the force.

HONDURAS FAVORS BOGRAN FOR LEADER

New Orleans, July 14.—Louis Bogran, son of a former president of Honduras, has been agreed upon by leaders of the revolutionary factions in the recent uprising as a candidate for president of that republic at the coming elections, according to information received in the Honduras colony here.

Bogran is a civil engineer and is 28 years old. He is at present in Washington and was quoted in press dispatches as having consented to make the race only after all factions had assured him of their support.

BROTHER KILLS MAN WHO SLEW GIRL, 13

Fort Worth, Tex., July 14.—Pelasco Hill, who six years ago killed his niece, Gladys Hill, thirteen years old, for which crime he was adjudged insane and sent to an asylum, was shot and killed by Louis Hill, brother of the girl.

BATTLES AS CAR RUNS WILD

North Weymouth Man's Auto Steered Into Post by Wild Man; Girl Injured

John Patrick of No. 20 Athens street, South Boston, was fined $50 for assault and battery on Victor Sokoluk of No. 17 Ward street, North Weymouth, and sentenced to pay $10 for drunkenness, in court today. He appealed and was held for the Suffolk Grand Jury.

According to the police, Patrick ran from an alleyway on H street, South Boston, early this morning, jumped on the running board of an automobile operated by Sokoluk and started to beat the man about the head and face.

In the scuffle, the throttle was pushed up and the car gathered speed. Sokoluk, who was in a dazed condition from the blows rained about his head, lost his grip on the wheel. Patrick grabbed the wheel and swung the car to the left-hand side of the street.

CRASHES INTO POLE.

The car, which was a high-powered make, crashed into a telegraph pole while going about fifty miles an hour.

Florence Norkewicz, fourteen years old, of No. 17 Ward street, North Weymouth, who was riding in the rear seat of the car, sustained a fractured skull. She was thrown thrown through the top and landed forty feet from the car.

Skoluk was not hurt, but Patrick was thrown and was cut about the lips. A portion of a finger on his right hand was cut off by a piece of glass from the windshield.

GIRL BADLY HURT.

Patrolman Robert J. Fitzgibbons of the City Point station, who was patroling his beat, heard the crash and ran to the scene. After hearing the facts, he arrested Patrick and secured medical attention for the girl.

Sokoluk took the girl to her home, where the family physician ordered her to the North Weymouth Hospital. Her name is on the danger list. She is suffering from a fracture of the skull and internal injuries.

Other charges will be placed against Patrick after he is tried in Superior Court.

The committee pledged support of the California Farmer-Labor party organization to Senator LaFollette and his program.

COOLIDGE TO PASS ON GEN. BUTLER'S JOB

Philadelphia, July 14.—Whether Brig.-Gen. Smedley D. Butler, director of public safety of Philadelphia, will remain at the head of the Philadelphia police force after the end of this year, is a matter to be arranged by Mayor Kendrick with President Coolidge, Butler said today.

He declined to discuss a report from Washington that he had made inquiries of Major-General John A. Lejeune as to where he would be assigned if he returned to active duty in the marine corps on Jan. 1 next. General Butler is on a one-year leave of absence.

THOUSANDS FIGHTING FIRES

Large District Menaced As Flames Sweep Forests

San Francisco, Cal., July 14.—With the entire Pacific Coast from California to British Columbia and eastward as far as Montana already menaced by the worst forest and brush fires in its history, the situation was heightened when thirty-three separate blazes were started by lightning in the Klamath National Forest in Northern California, near the Oregon line.

No loss of life has been reported, but scores of summer and ranch homes have been destroyed and millions of dollars worth of timber burned.

A steady northeast wind is blowing over the entire stricken area in the Santa Barbara district. It was the most favorable since the beginning of the devastating scourge last Wednesday. Unless it changes the fire in this district should be under control soon.

The district for which the fire was headed is thickly dotted with the summer homes of Los Angeles and Santa Barbara millionaires.

More than 1,500,000 acres of National Forest Reserves are today closed to campers and forestry officials are preparing to close 2,000,000 additional acres. Rivers and mountain streams are drying up and millions of acres of timberland are like a vast tinderbox.

Forest fires in Oregon have swept approximately 10,000 acres of timbered land and logged off lands. The monetary loss is placed in excess of $2,000,000.

In British Columbia and on Vancouver Island the two worst forest fires of many seasons continue to rage, with a destructive toll estimated at over $1,000,000 already.

In Washington fires are raging in the Colville Nation Forest near Wenatchee and in the Snoqualmie district.

Forest fire conditions in Montana and Idaho are the worst in many years. Thousand of fire fighters are at work between Spokane, Wash. and Missoula, Montana, but many more are estimated to be necessary if several villages in the path of the flames in Western Montana are to be saved.

PRISONER IN CELLAR, SAYS BOY

Chelsea Lad Declares He Was Kidnaped and Held Two Days

Eli Segal, aged 12, of No. 864 Fourth street, Chelsea, was selected as the victim for a terrible kidnapping plot, according to the story told by the boy after he was absent from home two days.

The boy, according to his own tale, was taken in an automobile by two men who held him in a cellar in a Revere house, with nothing to eat but bread.

The boy's story is unusual in the extreme. He was standing in front of his home, he says, when two men drove up and asked him directions as to roads. As he stepped to the running board of the car to give the information, he says he was pulled into the car.

Just before reaching Revere, the boy insists he was gagged. Then he was hauled about for a time, he declared, and finally taken into a house and dumped into the cellar. Upstairs the men were discussing money and the writing of letters.

After 48 hours of this treatment, he says, he was taken from the cellar, walked to Broadway, Revere and turned loose, whence he made his way home.

The boy's father, Samuel Segal, employed by the F. & F. Beef Company at Chelsea, is said to have employed detectives to investigate the boy's story.

WILSON UPSETS POLICE BOARD REPORT

Orders Trial of Patrolman Who Was Found Not Guilty by Captains

Commissioner Herbert A. Wilson startled legal authorities and Boston police department heads when he declined to accept the recommendation of a police tribunal, consisting of three captains, to find Patrolman George P. Milan not guilty of assault and orderer the case of Milan to a public hearing for retrial.

Thomas Dunlap of Roxbury, represented by Attorney Edward Collins, was complainant. At the hearing he charged Milan attacked him in a cell of the Roxbury Crossing station, struck him with "something," and nearly caused him the loss of an eye.

Evidence was introduced that Dunlap appealed from a lower court decision, finding him guilty of being drunk, and was defaulted when his case was called in the Superior Court. But the default was unintentional, according to Dunlap, and he later surrendered himself at Station 10.

To await arraignment at the next session of court, Dunlap was placed in a cell. Later, he testified, he was awakened by the cries of a prisoner who was being handled by Milan. In curiosity, he declared, he got up from his cell bed and looked out the cell door to see what was about.

At this juncture, he complains, Milan shouted something, which included, "Give me that cell key and I'll give that rubber neck a taste of it," opened the cell door, struck him in the eye with something and kicked him when he had fallen to the floor.

Horse Show to Benefit Welcome House, Planned by Smart Set at Hamilton

By BETTY ALDEN.

WHEN North Shore folk set about to raise funds for this or that philanthropy, it's quite natural for them to stage a horse show to do it.

Next month—August 16 is the date—a horse show will be held at "Green Meadows," the Hamilton estate of Mr. and Mrs. George Burroughs, the affair to benefit Welcome House, the industrial home in Worcester.

A band of horse-lovers prominently identified with the Myopia Hunt Club's activities are arranging the affair. The group includes, besides Mr. Burroughs, and Frederick J. Alley, Mrs. Freddy Ayer, Mrs. Oliver Wolcott (Sybil Appleton), Mrs. John S. Parker, Mrs. Bayard Tuckerman, Jr., Mrs. Evans R. Dick, Mrs. Francis P. Sears, Mrs. John E. Lawrence, Mrs. Neil W. Rice, Mrs. Robert Homans, Mrs. Galbraith Mitchell and Mrs. Augustus N. Rantoul, as well as the Misses Alice Thorndike, Mary Curtis and Eleanor Mason.

Already boxes are being reserved for the affair, which promises to be an outstanding event of the Shore's season. Tea will be served, over which Mrs. John S. Parker will preside.

Mrs. Freddy Ayer

MRS. FREDDY AYER, of the group listed above, is easily one of the Shore's most dashing horsewomen, and no equine event is complete without her. Both she and her husband—one of Myopia's crack polo players—generally exhibit their mounts together and it's always an interesting sight to see them take the hurdles together. Mrs. Ayer was formerly Miss Hilda Rice.

CONSUELO BATES

Miss Consuelo Bates will give a number of solo dances at the Rainbow Fete, being staged July 26, at "Blynman Farm," Magnolia. Miss Bates is the daughter of Mrs. Armistead K. Baylor of "Redledge," Ipswich.

SPEAKING of charity functions taking place along the North Shore, Miss Consuelo Bates will give a number of solo dances at the Rainbow fete, being staged on July 26 at "Blynman Farm," the William M. Coolidge estate at Magnolia.

Miss Bates, who was introduced to society in Boston a number of years ago, is the daughter of Mrs. Armistead K. Baylor of New York and "Redledge," Ipswich. Miss Bates has considerable talent as a dancer, and last year studied dancing in Paris.

Mrs. Baylor will also assist at the fete on the 26th by presiding at the booth where bright-looking nosegays and tempting vegetables will be sold.

The Boston Children's Friend Society will receive the proceeds derived from the affair, in which a large group of North Shore women are interesting themselves.

U. S. AID TO EUROPE IS PROMISED BY YOUNG

London, July 14—The Daily Mail today gives much prominence to the position Owen D. Young, one of the American members of the Experts' Committee, will hold as "unofficial" delegate. It states that if Young is invited to place the Washington government's view before the conference he will express it to the following effect:

"If the allies and Germany proceed whole-heartedly in the direction and execution of the Dawes report, American cooperation, both moral and financial, is assured. Regarding the allied debts to the United States, the latter, while intent upon the acknowledgment of the principle of the obligations, is willing to leave the refunding details to the future."

POLICEMAN SHOT IN NIGHT WOODS FIGHT

Halifax, N. S., July 14—Patrolman [illegible] of the Halifax police today was shot from ambush, probably fatally, in a pitched battle which has been in progress since last night in the woods bordering the city, where two men and two women have been holding authorities at bay.

The fray started when a cottager discovered the men and women making off with a camper's outfit. When police reached the scene they were met by a fusillade of bullets, fired from the forest.

STORK DEFEATS AUTO IN RACE TO HOSPITAL

Boy Born to Revere Woman as Driver Loses Way in Winthrop

The stork raced and defeated a flivver in a dash from Revere to Winthrop.

Leon Raymond Sweeney, weighing seven pounds and fourteen ounces, was the baby born on the rear seat of a sedan car.

Mrs. Leon Russell Sweeney, who is 18, and the wife of a youth of the same age, was the mother who lost the race to the Winthrop Community Hospital.

The dash began at 3 a. m. from the Sweeney home at No. 208 Ocean avenue, with Frank Murphy of Lowell, a former Revere Beach life guard, at the wheel.

At the "missing" bridge, near Pleasant street, Winthrop, the driver lost his way and it was while the car was stopped as he was asking directions that the biggest event in little Leon's life occurred.

A few minutes later a Winthrop police officer happened along and showed Mr. Murphy the way to the hospital.

The body of Dr. Robert Williamson Lovett, famous orthopedic surgeon, who died a week ago in London, was brought to Boston for burial today on the Cunard liner Scythia.

Peter F. Sullivan, former Mayor of Worcester, returned on the Scythia, after visiting Ireland. He said that country was prosperous and on the way to contentment.

Dr. Francis H. Rowley, president of the Massachusetts Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals, returned after attending the tenth annual convention of the British society in London. He reports a movement to start an international society in behalf of animals.

The Scythia brought fifty-seven saloon passengers, ninety-two cabin passengers and fifty-two in the steerage. She left 1,000 steerage passengers behind her in England, because certain blanks required under the new immigration law had not arrived.

Her officers reported that there are great camps of immigrants in England, awaiting the arrival of documents from Washington which will allow the Consuls to vise their passports and send them on their way to the American land of promise.

GERMAN POLICE ON GUARD OVER FRENCH FLAG

Posted With Rifles to Prevent Its Being Torn Down on Bastile Day

Berlin, July 14—Policemen with rifles from atop the Brandenburg Gate and the roofs of nearby buildings guarded the flag flying over the French embassy today.

The measure was a precautionary one taken to prevent a repetition of the incident of three years ago on the French national holiday when the tricolor was wrested from its staff by men who reached the embassy roof from adjacent buildings.

Other policemen with rifles marched back and forth directly in front of the embassy where a string of automobiles constantly brought and took away members of the diplomatic corps calling to pay their respects.

'JACK DILLON' BATTLED ALL COMERS TO BECOME PRIEST

ATHLETE OF B. C. BOXED TO STUDY

Student-Fighter Rounding Out Athletic Career as Beach Life Guard

"Fighting Jack Dillon" of boxing circles, but known in collegiate gatherings as Anthony James Flaherty, is rounding out his career as an athlete as a lifeguard at Foley Beach, Woburn, before entering the seminary to study for the priesthood.

Jack was graduated from Boston College this year with the degree of Bachelor of Arts, and during his last two years at that institution paid all his expenses by boxing.

Jack has had a colorful career as a boxer. He met all comers and has the honor of winning over such boxers as Billy Shine, Fred Warren, Paul Di Salvo and Al Walthers. He is a neat and trim bit of physique, weighs 147 pounds, is five feet eight and one-half inches tall, and hasn't a spare ounce of flesh on his body.

He always liked to box as a youngster.

"There was always a pair of boxing gloves around," Jack said, "and as youngsters we would put them on and go to it.

"Nothing was more natural than that I should turn to boxing in my final years to pay my expenses through college. I boxed professionally during the last two years and cleared expenses. I think a fellow gets more out of life if he works his way through college than if he has it handed to him on a silver spoon," declared fighting Jack.

Jack was born and bred in Woburn. He attended St. Charles Parochial School, Woburn; Boston College High, and Boston College. He is as good a student as he is a boxer, and is fond of reading.

ON TRACK TEAM.

Jack was also a member of the track team at Boston College, and has athletic ability in other lines, but on account of the advantages accruing from boxing, concentrated his time and energy on that endeavor.

At present Jack is serving as a life-guard at Foley Beach, awaiting the result of his examinations for entrance into the Seminary. He is very popular with the young folks of that district, who always hail him as "Jack."

Jack is not a very talkative chap but his growing host of friends hold him as a real good fellow, a rare combination of gentleman, boxer, and good fellow.

His large following of friends in social, athletic and collegiate circles wish him every success in his life's endeavor.

MAKES BI HIT WITH BATHING TOTS

JACK DILLON, LIFE GUARD

TWO MEN, FOUR BOYS, WOMAN, DROWNED

Bathing and Boating Take Toll of Lives in New England Waters

Seven lives was the toll taken in drowning accidents in New England Sunday, all the fatalities occurring in waters outside Greater Boston.

The dead:

Joseph P. Lucey, 25, of No. 132 Lynde street, Melrose, drowned at Westford.

Miss Ida E. Foster, 30, of Portland, Me., drowned in Casco bay.

Louis Martin, 51, of Milton, N. H., drowned in Milton Three Ponds.

Thomas Moriarty, 10, of Thompsonville, Conn., drowned in Connecticut river.

Joseph Burbino, 7, of Buxton court, Andover, drowned at Pomps Pond, Andover.

George Marr, 10, of New London, Conn., drowned in harbor.

Joseph P. Lucey was drowned at Forge Village Pond, Westford, when he endeavored to recover an oar lost from a boat.

UNABLE TO SWIM.

He reached for the oar, lost his balance and fell into the pond. He was unable to swim and drowned before companions could reach him.

Miss Foster, drowned at Portland, left her home ostensibly to attend church. Some hours later her body, fully clothed, was found in the waters of Casco bay. She has been suffering from ill-health for some time, but the medical examiner returned a certificate of accidental death.

Louis Martin was drowned in the waters of Three Ponds, New Hampshire, while bathing. He was seized with the cramps and succumbed before aid could reach him.

LOSES LIFE FOR BROTHER.

The Moriarty brothers were drowned while fishing in the Connecticut river near Thompsonville. It is believed the older boy fell into the water and drowned and the younger boy lost his life in a vain effort to save his brother.

Joseph Burbino was playing on a raft at Pomps Pond, Andover, when he slipped from the float and being unable to swim, was drowned.

George Marr was fishing off the Griswold docks when he lost his balance and fell into the water. Companions brought him to the surface three times before he finally went to the bottom and was drowned.

DETERMINED SEX BEFORE TWINS CAME

London, July 14.—(Universal Cable).—Mrs. Monteith Erskine, wife of a member of parliament, after fifteen years of study claims to have discovered a method for predetermining sex before childbirth.

She was a student of medicine in Geneva and says that no amount of wishing or thought has any affect in determining sex.

Her theory centers on a discovery that there are auspicious times to insure the birth of a boy or a girl.

She claims that the birth of her last two sons, who were twins, was not an accident, and that she persuaded her husband to insure heavily against twins. The company had to pay.

"Hundreds of boys, including many heirs to wealth," she says, "owe their existence to my discovery."

Chicago, July 14 (Universal)—James J. Davis, Secretary of Labor, says the lunch counter stool is the best test for Americanism.

"It is the test of real Americanism," he said. "No one can claim to be an American until he has sat on a stool at a lunch counter and munched his food."

The secretary expressed himself while seated on a stool at a railroad lunch counter where he stopped for a bite while en route to Moose Heart, Ill.

[illegible] strictly classified as streets, is second, although Charlestown bridge, considered as a traffic avenue, outnumbers it by several hundred vehicles.

The busiest of all the avenues by which vehicles, motor or horse drawn, enter and leave the business district is that part of Beacon street below Arlington street.

The subcommittee [illegible] of which [illegible] ford [illegible] as chairman, made a comprehensive count on June 5 of every vehicle entering and every one leaving the downtown district. The count was undertaken at the instance of a special commission on major street improvements in Boston to which the 1924 legislature committed the study of the proposed intermediate street and other street projects.

The hour of the day most given up to vehicular traffic is that from 5 to 6 p. m. During this hour more than 15,000 vehicles of all sorts pass in and out of the various districts of the downtown city.

GOLDING HOME IS BARRED TO RICH SUITOR

Mother Tells Luce Not to Call on Daughter Whom He Has Twice Jilted

The door of pretty Alice Golding's suburban home at No. 1[illegible] Cypress street, Newton Centre, has been permanently barred against Andrew Luce, her millionaire suitor.

Mrs. Charles Golding, the young choir singer's mother, declares she will never again permit her daughter to meet the elderly man who has twice jilted her. What's more, Mrs. Golding will ask City Clerk Grant to cancel the marriage license Luce has been carrying around in his pocket since he first obtained it.

TOLD TO STAY AWAY.

"My permission was never asked or given for the issuing of a marriage license to my daughter," declared Mrs. Golding with flashing eyes. "Alice is under age so the city clerk will have to cancel it.

"I told Andrew Luce, over the telephone, to stay away from my girl and to understand that after his actions he wasn't wanted by her. Alice was happy before she met him and she will be happy again after she forgets him.

CONTROLS DAUGHTER.

"Of course I know he is still in possession of the license, but that won't do him any good. I am going to have it canceled as soon as the city clerk's office opens tomorrow.

"Alice is under my control. No matter what she says or how she feels, I am not going to let her marry him. If he tries to elope with her there will be obstacles, I can assure you."

Straw Hat Leads Police to Men in Haystack

Two young men who attempted to play the role of the proverbial "needle in the haystack" discovered that they were somewhat too bulky for the job.

The police, after receiving complaints that two young men were trying to stop autoists on Highland avenue, Salem, reached the scene in time to see the young men flee.

The police lost sight of the fugitives for a time, but after searching about came to a haystack on the Sands Farm. Their attention attracted by a straw hat, the police probed about until they had uncovered the concealed youths.

They were arrested on charges of drunkenness and gave their names as John [illegible] Patterson of No. 45[illegible] Meridian street, East Boston, and Charles Foote of No. 158 Brooks street, East Boston.

THOMAS' SON TO GET DIVORCE, THEN WRITE

Luke, Heir of Playwright Dean, Says That He Can't Work Till He's Free

New York, July 14.—As soon as Luke and the lawyers can find out a method [illegible] married to the former Dorothy Mahoney, Luke Thomas will write that play.

Luke, who wants to show Papa Augustus E. Thomas, dean of playwrights, just where stagecraft can be improved by the new generation, was going great guns on his scenario when—bing! the heart began to misbehave.

Then Mrs. Luke Thomas noticed something, is indicated now by her [illegible] with the two children [illegible] and her two sisters [illegible] where she has taken an apartment within walking distance of the [illegible] Court.

Luke is said to have told Sidney [illegible] on the [illegible] not to get [illegible]. As soon as this divorce thing is settled he'll get down to work.

The present Mrs. Thomas, daughter of Mrs. James Augustine Mahoney, married Luke in 1917, when she was twenty-two years old. It was her desire to make Luke independent of his parents and capable of setting up a household of his own which sent him to play writing.

WHN CHIDED BY INDIGNANT MOTHERS

New York, July 14—Indignant mothers are bombarding radio broadcasting station WHN with protests against a twice-daily invitation to their daughters to become chorus girls, which is being spilled into the homes of all persons who listen to the WHN program.

The mothers are suggesting a radio censor to eliminate such matter as the chorus-girl invitation.

"If you have a good figure, a pretty face and neat ankles, along with an ambition to be a chorus girl, come to the Earl Carroll Theatre, put on a bathing suit and let us look at you," the announcer has been telling wide-eyed young maidens as they sit in their own parlors.

The mothers protest such an invasion of the home.

Earl Carroll of the Earl Carroll Theatre says it is good advertising for his show and is bringing plenty of prospective chorus girls to his stage door.

"There aren't enough of them on Broadway," according to Carroll.

"I am looking for fresh ones," he said. "They get old in a few weeks."

ON THE AIR LAST NIGHT

BY THE LISTENER

By straining the old tuner last night right up to the oscillating point of the detector tube, I could fish in some station right on WNAC's wave. A man was preaching a sermon, and at times you could understand him. But the carrier wave of some other station was messing up things, and it ruined the quality of the man's voice.

When I get into a fix like this with a station I immediately shift to some other station. A year or so ago I would have probably stayed up half the night waiting to get his call letters. Now, thanks to the increase in the number of stations throughout the country, we don't have to worry about poor reception. Them days are gone forever!

There is something about these open air broadcasts which makes them practically 100 per cent perfect. It is the superb reproduction made possible by not having any reverberating surfaces for the sound to echo from.

In the case of studio programs, this natural effect is preserved to a large extent through the process of padding the walls with a sound absorbing material. In public buildings, when large orchestras are broadcast, it is easy to notice the echo which accompanies the music.

On the afternoon program yesterday, which WNAC broadcast from the Parkman Bandstand, you could swear that Ivers' Band was playing from a padded studio. The only thing that would indicate it was in the open air was the hand clapping after each number and, of course, the announcements stating where the band was playing from. It was a first-class broadcast, and worthy of repetition.

Aside from the usual evening church services from our local stations, about the only thing I could rake in during the early part of the evening was WJAR and Roxy's Capitol Theatre program. WJAR came in on a different setting on my dials last night. His wave seemed somewhat lower than it has been of late. He comes in now at exactly the same setting as WMAF, at South Dartmouth.

The static was not so awful bad last night, but it hampered WJAR's program somewhat. You could understand what was being said excepting that it required more or less concentration. It seemed as though the shower cleared up the air a whole lot, because as the evening wore on the static got lighter.

WCAP and WRAP came through very loud on the Skinner Organ program. Thanks to the general improvement in conditions, we may soon be able to get consistent reception from these two stations.

HOW TO TUNE SHORT WAVE RECEIVER

Similar to Any Regenative Set; May Be Tuned to Squeals

Tuning the American's short wave set is much the same as the tuning of any [illegible] feed-back regenerative set.

The condenser tunes to the wave-length, while the variocoupler (more or less in conjunction with the rheostat) controls regeneration. The taps on the primary, if used, often increase the volume.

The best way to tune the set in [illegible] is as follows:

Light filaments to about the correct temperature. Set switch arm on first tap and condenser at zero. Turn variocoupler until the oscillation click is heard or slightly beyond there. The click is unmistakably heard in the phones, and there is apt to be a slight tube noise becoming audible immediately after the click.

Now turn condenser until a squeal is heard or until the click that shows that the tube has passed below the oscillation point again is heard.

If a squeal is heard, adjust condenser to the low pitch of the squeal and then reduce regeneration to be on the oscillation point with the variocoupler.

If the click is reached before a squeal is heard, increase regeneration with the variocoupler until the click is passed again, and then proceed once more with condenser, continuing thus until the squeal is picked up.

It should be possible to pick up a station on any one of the taps, but a station will occasionally come in better on one than another.

There is no danger of radiating sufficiently to interfere with your neighbors.

Radio Queries

I would like to build a set which would take in both the 100 meters and the regular wave lengths. Can you give me a diagram for this?

W. L. J.

This cannot be done with efficient results without a very complicated system of switches with resulting losses. It is quite possible to build separate tuning elements, one for short waves and one for long, which can be connected by jumpers to a detector tube and audio amplifier.

Is a special audio amplifier needed for the 100-meter set, or can I use a regular unit?

D. J.

Any standard audio amplifier may be used for the short waves, as there is no change beyond the detector.

Would it not be possible to use a single circuit hookup for the 100-meter set with better results?

H. A.

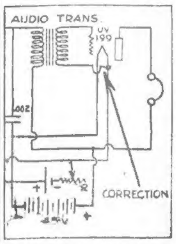
It is not only impracticable for short waves, but would lead to the same curse that has been inflicted on the regular waves—radiation.

1—I have a crystal set. If I add a stage of audio-frequency amplification, will it howl and squeal? 2—What ratio would you advise, 6½ to 1 or 3½ to 1? Could I use a crystal in place of a tube to amplify?

G. R. A.

1—Not if properly built. 2—Ratio is not the important consideration in transformers. Of two transformers of equally good design and construction, the higher ratio would be better for you. 3—No.

Grid Change



CORRECTED DIAGRAM

By error, the grid return for the audio tube was shown connected to the positive filament lead in the diagram for the American's short wave set. It should have been connected to the negative lead, as in any audio amplifier. The correct connection is shown above.

CLIP COUPONS FOR SECOND BEACH OUTING

Start Today and Be Ready for Mothers' Nantasket Excursion Next Week

By "SUNSHINE JIMMY"
Of the Boston American

You know me by now. I work for the Boston American and the guy who runs the swell trips down to Nantasket Beach for all kids and their ma's, says to me "You write to the kids in the paper all about these trips." The first trip is tomorra', Tuesday.

Now kiddoes, right off the reel I want to tip you off first thing that the first coupon of this week is printed in today's American. That's for next week's trip.

Cut it out now—right now, or you may be outa luck.

CLIP FIVE COUPONS

You see you gotta have five coupons, one from Monday's American, one from Tuesday's, Wednesday's, Thursday's and Friday's. Then you must bring 'em in next Saturday for next week's trip.

They calls these coupon in "serious" or something like that, and today's coupon is called "serious" two numba' one.

"Serious" one is all given out. They was for tomorrow's first trip and the big Nantasket boat will be filled wid' mothers and kids who are going down for the fun.

But the big thing now fer me to talk about is next week's trip. It will be on Tuesday, July the 22nd.

Now begin to clip and save your coupons. Each kid and each Ma must bring in one dime, too. And you must have sets of fiv coupons fer each what wants to go.

RUSH FOR TICKETS

If ya wanna go on these trips be sure and read the "Facts to Remember" that's printed today.

Gee what a swell, clean washed bunch a' kids came down to the Outing Headquarters last Sat'dy' fer their tickets? You kids otta bring yer mothers or your older sisters or brothers along. Then yer won't be disserpointed. 'Course the older folks kin understan' the rules better'n you or me and youse kids will be sure of gettin' yer tickets.

Here's a don't forget:

No bunch a kids will be taken widdout some older kids widdem—yer mother or your older sister or anubuddy who'll take care you when we gets down to Nantasket.

We had a hake of a time roundin' up the kids to come home on the boat when the fun was all over on each of last year's trips.

Before I skin out to grab my ham an' coffee I gotta' tell youse kids about Sat'dy's crowd which came down to the outing office of the American at No. 288 Devonshire street.

KIDS ON HAND EARLY.

Wow, what a mob!

Some kids wus there at six in the mornin' and when noontime came aroun' the line was "stretch!" from Winthrop square (where the new American building is) way down past the corner of Summer street, almost to the next street.

But every kid what obeyed the rules got a ticket until they was all gone for tomorra's trip. Yer see they's only 3,000 tickets fer each Tuesday's outing. Only 1,500 kin' go on each boat. I mean mothers and kids together y'know.

So begin to clip your this week's coupon today.

Save the five an' bring 'em in next Sat'dy to No. 288 Devonshire street. An kids give a guy a lift, will ya?

Please read the rules and understan' 'em.

Bye kids.

(SEE PAGE 2 FOR COUPON)

Facts to Remember About Mother's Outing Trips

The second set of coupons starts in today's American, and will be followed with another each day for five days. When these coupons are presented in person at the American Outing Headquarters, they will be exchanged for one ticket and a tag admitting the holder to Paragon Park for the second boat trip.

Outing headquarters, No. 288 Devonshire street, will open at 8 a. m. each Saturday.

First come, first served.

Only 3,000 persons permitted by law on the two boats.

The law requires that every passenger, even babies, must have own ticket on boarding steamboat.

Tickets limited to mother or guardian and 2 children—capacity of boat makes this imperative.

First boat leaves Nantasket Beach Steamboat Company wharf on Atlantic avenue at 9:15 each Tuesday morning. Returning it will leave Nantasket at 3:30 p. m.

The second boat leaves the Atlantic avenue wharf at 10:45 the same morning, and returning leaves Nantasket at 4:30 in the afternoon.

Be sure and read your ticket.

Do not take coupons to the boat, as they will not be accepted.

Those who failed to get on the first trip, be sure to start today in saving the second series coupons. Five are needed, consecutive dates.

MAN NEAR DEATH IN FALL FROM PIAZZA

Salvatore Stiarillo, forty-eight years old, of No. 83 Medford street, Medford, is near death after falling from the second floor piazza of his home when the railing gave way beneath his weight. He was removed to the Lawrence Memorial Hospital in Medford. His skull is fractured.

CALIFORNIANS WILL BACK LA FOLLETTE

San Francisco, Cal., July 14—Senator Robert M. La Follette will have a complete organization in California in his candidacy for the Presidency said Gordon F. Irvine, State chairman of the conference for Progressive political action. Irvine said an intensive campaign is planned in behalf of La Follette here.

PROGRESSIVES URGE BRANDEIS FOR 2D PLACE

Asserts They Forced Nomination of "Broadminded Man"

Washington, July 14 (Universal).—Louis D. Brandeis, Associate Justice of the United States Supreme Court, has been offered the Progressive endorsement for second place on the La Follette ticket this Fall.

It can be said authoritatively that Charles W. Bryan of Nebraska, Democratic nominee for Vice-President, has been finally rejected by La Follette.

The Senator feels that any Democrat who would make a race on the Democratic platform cannot be said to be a Progressive, and that a new deal is necessary.

R. M. La Follette — Louis D. Brandeis

The La Follette supporters want Justice Brandeis as Vice-Presidential candidate for a number of reasons. First and foremost, they recognize in him one of the most brilliant minds allied with the Progressive movement.

FOR BAY STATE VOTE.

Secondly, Brandeis is a Democrat and comes from Boston, an Eastern State. They hope in this way either to capture Massachusetts or so to cut down the Coolidge vote as to throw the State to the Democrats.

Thirdly, they think they can capture New York with Brandeis on the ticket, and this is the reason why they would be willing to lose Massachusetts to the Democrats, for New York has 45 votes in the electoral college.

The hope of capturing New York for their cause with Brandeis on the ticket is based partly upon his race and partly upon the fact that he is the best known and best loved in New York of all the Progressives.

The La Follette followers feel that if they can persuade Brandeis to leave the bench and go on the ticket with "Fighting Bob," they can be sure of the electoral vote of New York State. And they have counted up enough Western States to declare that New York's electoral vote would mean La Follette in the White House after March 4.

WELL KNOWN HUB TELEGRAPHER DEAD

Lawrence J. Malone, fifty years old, supervisor of telegraphs of the New England Telephone & Telegraph Company, is dead at his home, No. 57 St. Rose street, Jamaica Plain, after an illness of two months.

Mr. Malone was several times president of Division 15, A. O. H., and was also a past president of the Telegraphers' Mutual Aid Association. He leaves a wife, five children and two brothers, Edward and Dr. Charles Malone, all of Jamaica Plain.

LIVES OF 3 MEN IMPERILED BY LIGHTNING

Bolt Splits Sullivan Sq. Flagpole; Plays Pranks in Somerville

The 90-foot flag pole which for many years stood in Sullivan Square Park, Charlestown, brought to earth by a bolt of lightning, came near costing the lives of three Charlestown residents.

These men were occupying a bench in the park when the storm broke. They started for shelter and were but a short distance away when the lightning struck the pole at the top, tearing the stick from the ground.

A large piece fell directly over the bench where the men had been sitting. A section of iron fence near the police signal box in the park was also demolished.

The lightning also played some queer pranks about Somerville. A large tree in front of No. 21 Oak street was struck and uprooted by the lightning. The tree fell across the street, blocking traffic.

The chimney of a house at Cross and Pearl streets was also struck, bricks being thrown to the sidewalk. Several trees had their branches torn from them by the lightning, while Ladder 1 was called out when the wires became entangled in a tree on Cedar street, between Aberdeen road and Mall street.

HERRIOT'S PARTY TO NUMBER ABOUT 30

CLARENCE H. DE MAR AND HIS MOTHER

PRAYED HARD AS DE MAR STROVE TO WIN

Mother of Melrose Marathon Star on Her Knees as Son Trudged Along

"Thank God, my prayers are answered."

While Clarence H. De Mar, Melrose Sunday school teacher, printer, and Marathoner was jogging along French roads in the heat of Sunday, in the great Olympic distance race in which he carried the Stars and Stripes to third position against the runners of the world, his little gray-haired mother was on her knees praying he would bring glory to his country and to himself.

"I knew my boy would give the best that was in him. I felt confident that he, too, was praying hard as he trudged along over the long, hard course.

"It matters not that two other stout-hearted men finished ahead of him—Clarence won for himself and won for me.

"Of course 'twould have been better had he finished in first place. But in a clean hard race let the laurels go to the strongest. We are happy that Clarence finished where he did—the first American to cross the line.

"My boy's welcome will be just as warm, just as loving as if he won the highest honor."

MRS. GARDNER IS GREATLY IMPROVED

Mrs. John L. Gardner, famous art collector and social leader, whose illness was reported as critical, is in a greatly improved condition, according to her attending physician.

Mrs. Gardner's illness was caused when she went out last Tuesday and was somewhat affected by the extreme heat.

She has been attended during her illness by Dr. John L. Ames. Owing to her age, it was thought necessary to stake great precaution against serious illness.

U. S. MUST GIVE UP GOLD, AD MEN ARE TOLD

Flood Now Pouring Into America Will Wreck Prosperity, London Paper Warns

London, July 14 (I.N.S.)—"America must give up her gold."

This admonition, bannered in the Daily Express, greeted the American delegates today when they resumed sessions of the convention of the Associated Advertising Clubs of the World.

The Mail, in a lengthy article addressed to the delegates, declared the "flood of gold, pouring into America, was wrecking her prosperity."

"Shadows of disaster are ahead for America," the article continued.

The Prince of Wales, addressing the session of the ad men today, expressed the hope that the convention would lead to many lasting friendships which would permanently increase international accord.

WALES IS CHEERED.

The Prince was roundly cheered when he was presented by Viscount Burnham as "the greatest friend of America in Britain."

"Your presence here is the record of the good results that must follow the concerted advance towards efficiency in the science and art of advertising," the Prince said.

"The aim of good advertising is better distribution and lower prices. If you succeed in that you will solve many pressing economic problems which confront the world today.

"I hope the convention will lead to many lasting friendships which will permanently increase international accord."

Ambassador Kellogg, who followed the Prince, referred to the allied conference which will meet in London Wednesday to devise a plan for carrying out the Dawes report.

"Another convention will meet in London the day after tomorrow," Ambassador Kellogg said. "I believe it will solve the greatest economic problem in the history of the world.

COOLIDGE MESSAGE.

"What we need is for the people of the world to become better acquainted. Then we may have hope that war may cease forever."

Lou Holland of Kansas City, president of the Associated Advertising Clubs of the World, read a message to the convention from President Coolidge.

"As truth is essential between buyers and sellers," the message said, "so in a larger sense is it essential in the wider relationships between nation and nation."

J. H. Thomas, Secretary of State for the Colonies, was another speaker who urged "better understanding between people as a means of solving world problems."

"If every nation enters the allied conferences with the same spirit as the American ambassador evinces," he said, "you will be able to say you were in London when the most momentous conference in the world's history accomplished the greatest task in the history of the world.

"We must work together in better feeling to replace what we have lost. When all nations and all classes understand each other we will be near the solution of world problems."

MAZZU, EX-BOXER, IN CAMBRIDGE BRAWL

Charles A. Mazzu, an old-time professional boxer, started a battle, police say, in a Cambridge poolroom which carried into the street and led to injuries to several of the combatants, one of whom, William Kenton, of Main street, was sent to the hospital with cuts in the head from a bottle.

James Fillios, proprietor of the poolroom, charged Mazzu with stealing a pocketbook containing $23 from the pocket of a coat which hung in the room.

SPEEDER JAILED TO WORK OUT $10 FINE

Charles Chamberlain, well-groomed young salesman of Waverley, went to jail today on the order of Judge Connolly of the Brighton court in lieu of payment of a $10 fine imposed upon him last April for speeding.

Chamberlain was arrested on a default warrant after failing to pay the fine. He pleaded financial difficulties and declared his last year's commission amounting to nearly $4,000 had dwindled through lack of business in the present year.

TRIBESMEN ROUTED IN MOROCCAN CLASH

London, July 14 (I.N.S.)—Renewed fighting between the Spanish troops and the Riff Tribesmen in the Tetuan district, has resulted in heavy casualties on both sides, according to despatches today from Tangier. The tribesmen were driven back in an attempt to advance upon Tetuan, the despatches said.

Do You Think The Figure 7 Is Prettier Than The Figure 8?

WE KNOW it is an absurd question. But nevertheless it is the only argument by which a small circulation can be proved superior to a big one. ¶Either you must admit that the value of circulation is established by numerical superiority or else you must agree that 7 is prettier than 8 because it has a tail. ¶There is, of course, one occasion where the figure 7 is prettier than the figure 8 and that is when an $8.00 article can be bought for $7.00. ¶But to argue that 150,000 readers are the equal of 240,000 readers is just as irrational as to contend than $150,000 is just as good as a quarter of a million. And the bigger the disparity of the figures the greater the absurdity in the figuring!

The evening circulation of the Boston American is 240,000.
Its nearest evening competitor is 78,000 copies BEHIND.
Its next evening competitor is 113,000 copies BEHIND.
Its third evening competitor is 202,000 copies BEHIND.
They have their value, of course, as supplementary mediums.

Mr. Davis said he was anxious to get the preliminaries out of the way as soon as possible, in view of the fact that the prolongation of the convention already had somewhat delayed the Democratic appeal to the country for control of the government.

Fleischmann Denies Turning Over $1,000,000 to His First Wife

By CHARLES B. PARMER

New York, July 14 (Universal).—"I am not going to remarry my first wife. Not-at-all!"

Julius Fleischmann, yeast king and polo player, whose second wife, the glorious Laura, divorced him in Paris Friday, made that statement.

He was told that dispatches from Cincinnati hinted that Mrs. Lilly Ackerland Fleischmann might be with him on the third trip to the altar—she is the mother of his three children.

"Bosh!"

Julius showed the futility of such a thought. He had just come in from the golf links and his Port Washington, L. I. estate, where he had played a round with friends.

His manner showed he did not care to comment further on the rumors which says Laura Fleischmann has just divorced him so that she may marry the bubbling-spirited Jay O'Brien, well-known on many a polo field.

Laura and Jay are in Paris, waiting for six months to elapse, at which time her decree of divorce becomes final.

Laura's philosophical husband was asked if it were true that he had settled $1,000,000 on that first wife who now holds herself incommunicado in her Cincinnati home.

"Bosh! I never settled a million on her. Never! That's absurd."

TIRED OF TALKING.

Of course, Lilly Fleischmann did get alimony—$25,000 a year, and a Summer home in New London, Ct. Her divorce decree was scarcely blotted when Julius married Laura Heminway.

It was during a polo game on Julius' Long Island estate when Jay O'Brien flashed before Laura's vision.

"Who introduced Jay to Mrs. Fleischmann? Was it yourself?"

For once Fleischmann temporized.

"Now—now—I'm tired of hearing about Jay O'Brien. I'd rather not say. Oh! suppose we just forget O'Brien."

STILL HAS TERRIERS.

It was after that last plea—"suppose we just forget O'Brien,"—that the millionaire sportsman turned aside. He now has only a memory of the gay little Laura whom he took as his bride four years ago.

Of course, Jay O'Brien may be the happy one now. But Jay—even though one may term him a swashbuckler of hearts—has drunk the dregs of defeat more than once.

Jay's happy now, if reports from persons who saw him strolling the Paris boulevard are true. Laura isn't supposed to be pining.

As for Julius—well, he has his Sealyham terriers, devoted little creatures, who have never violated his friendship and who love him dearly on these cloudy days.

BACK TO OLD LOVE

In days past Julius reared many a thoroughbred at La Belle stud in Kentucky. Those were the years when her colors—"Blue, Red and White Sash"—flashed by many a winning post.

Then polo absorbed his attention, and each Winter for years Julius has sent a polo string to Miami. Now his first love is reclaiming him. The Middleneck farm stable—as he terms his racing outfit—has just imported a number of jumpers from abroad. Julius's colors may go over the sticks this season.

And—Jay O'Brien may keep his polo for all Julius cares.

PEGGY IS AWARDED VERDICT

Miss O'Neill, Actress, Proves to Blushing Jury That New Gown Is Too Tight

London, July 14.—Solemn officers of the [illegible] court were treated to an unexpected thrill during the trial of a $600 suit against Peggy O'Neill, the American actress.

Peggy O'Neill.

It was charged by an irate tailor that Peggy had failed to pay him the amount named for a moleskin suit he created for her.

Miss O'Neill's defence was that the suit was too tight. She said the only thing she could do in it with any feeling of security was stand up.

Demonstrating, she tried to sit down. The bottom of the skirt rose so high that several of the more modest of the jurors turned away and declared themselves satisfied. To clinch the argument, the actress had her maid try to pull the dress off over her head. It took three minutes.

When it was off, moreover, it was revealed that Peggy had another and thinner gown on underneath. The jurors sighed but gave her a verdict.

PERFORMS STUNTS IN POND

Leads Congregation From Church After Talk on Acquatic Sports

Boxford, July 14.—If the male membership of the West Boxford Congregational Church doesn't begin to swim right away, it won't be the fault of the Rev. Harry Cutbill, pastor.

Cutbill, a noted runner, and known throughout New England as the "flying parson," staged something quite unparalleled in Sunday evening services at the church.

Entering the pulpit, accompanied by Miss Ethelda Bliebtry, champion swimmer, the pastor introduced her to the congregation and had her address the parishioners on a subject related to swimming.

Then the entire congregation adjourned to a pond near the church and witnessed an aquatic exhibition by Miss Bliebtry.

Miss Bliebtry has made several records. She is now employed as an exhibition swimmer and instructor at Canobie Lake Park.

'BRANDED' MINISTER DRUGGED

Michigan Pastor Still Unable to Explain How He Was Marked With "K. K. K."

Battle Creek, Mich., July 14 (I.N.S.)—Medical tests were to be made today on the Rev. Oren C. Vanloon, "KKK" branded Berkley, Mich., minister, to learn when his mind became a blank and memory slipped from him. Rev. Vanloon disappeared last June 30.

The relentless Klan foe still lies in a bewildered condition at the Nichols Hospital here, following his collapse on the street last Friday.

Despite long periods of rest, nourishing food and loving attention of relatives, the minister is not himself.

Grave fears were expressed by his physicians, Dr. A. F. Kingsley, that the experiences of those hidden days would never be remembered.

"It's exactly as though he had been under an anaesthetic for that length of time," Dr. Kingsley said. "He can no more remember what transpired in that period than a patient can know what took place on the operating table.

"I have examined carefully for skull fractures or bruises. But he has suffered no such injury. He shows the symptoms of drugging and as soon as he regains his strength, we will endeavor to determine what drugs, if any, have been administered to him."

Fitfully in his sleep the minister murmurs to himself about "those men." Again he cries out, "Don't let them hurt me."

Before the groping mind of the minister flashed the vivid picture of a night near Royal Oak when the klansmen burned a cross on a hillside and held their mystic rites.

"I can see that cross burning in the night," he went on. "It seemed to be then a sacrilege to use an emblem of peace as a symbol of separation, or hatred.

"There was the fright of women and children living in the vicinity not understanding the ceremony and begging me for comfort. So I preached a sermon against the burning of a cross.

"There are klansmen in my own church and they did not like it. A few of the boys left and I received some letters of criticism but no threats."

FATHER ROUTS TWO SUITORS WITH A BAT

Fitchburg, July 14.—Paternal solicitude for his two pretty daughters moved Barney Black of No. 36 Berry street to assault two young men and damage their automobile when they called to take the girls riding by moonlight.

The young men, Charles E. [illegible] of No. 3 Snow street and [illegible] looked like rivals of Beau Brummel [illegible] arrived in front of the Black residence, and their sedan appeared spick and span.

And the two Black girls, Ida, eighteen years old, and Bessie, sixteen, giggled merrily as they peeked from behind curtains at the plight of their would-be suitors.

ATTACKED WITH BAT

The young men arrived at the night and waited for the girls apparently by prearrangement. When the girls failed to appear, the young men sounded the automobile horn and whistled.

But the racket they raised, instead of bringing to them the girls of their hearts, brought an enraged parent, apparently awakened from sound slumber.

Black was a man of action, so he wasted no words. A look at the young men who had awakened him, and he hurried to the wood shed, secured a base ball bat, and returned and began the onslaught.

For the next few minutes the sound of crashing glass and the thump, thump, thump of wood against tin (of the automobile) resounded on the midnight air.

"HOW THRILLING," SAY GIRLS.

The young men, showered with glass and escaping by inches the whirling baseball bat, finally recovered from their surprise and panic and drove away as fast as their machine could take them.

Meanwhile, a crowd had collected, many of them in night attire, and the police had been called. Patrolmen Daniel F. McKenna and Hector Langelier arrived in time to witness the last part of the attack.

The police took Black into custody and he was charged with destroying property, and when the young victims of his enraged attack appear in court against him today he must answer to additional charges of assault.

"How thrilling" was all that the young girls would say when interviewed concerning the midnight incident.

BARRE SLAYER OF TWO HUNTED IN THE WOODS

Barre, July 14.—John Rea, a mill worker, shot and instantly killed two men in a house on Ash street, South Barre, and escaped into the woods.

The murderer's victims were San [illegible], forty years old, married and the father of two children, and Orlando Centracchio, a mill worker, who leaves a wife and five children.

[illegible] was proprietor of the [illegible] store in South Barre. The other victim was a co-worker of Rea.

The motive for the crime could not be determined.

State Officers Molt and McCarthy and an armed posse of police were scouring the woods all night for the murderer. He is believed to have the death weapon still in his possession.

The men were shot with a .38 calibre army revolver, according to witnesses of the shooting. The latter chased the murderer until he eluded them in the woods about South Barre.

Both victims died from bullet wounds in the breast. Officials investigating the case could learn little more than the bare facts of the shooting from witnesses.

The murderer is described as five feet six inches tall, between thirty-five and thirty-eight years old, brown eyes, dark complexion, and Charlie Chaplin mustache. He is an Italian. He wore a light blue shirt, brown cap, either army pants or golf knickers, and brown shoes.

JOHN R. DREXEL, JR., INJURED BY CANOPY

New York, July 14.—John R. Drexel, Jr., member of the Drexel family of Philadelphia, who was struck early today over the head by a falling canopy on Madison avenue, was said at a hospital to be only slightly injured. It was thought at first that he had suffered a fracture of the skull.

Drexel, found on Madison avenue by a policeman, was able to give his name, but his answers to other questions were incoherent. He had been living in a hotel here.

SEE BOOTLEG FEUD IN STRANGE DEATH

Salamanca, N. Y., July 14.—Authorities today were investigating clues which they declared indicated the possibility of a bootleg feud in the death of Henry Tedesco, believed murdered Saturday, and whose bullet-riddled body was found beside a country road between Steamburg and Randolph. A bankbook found on the body showed deposits averaging $200 a day and totalling $2,500, in a Jamestown bank, police said, adding that investigation had tended to discount a theory of robbery as the motive.

SPRINGFIELD CHILD KILLED BY TRUCK

Springfield, July 14.—Alexander Keznick, three-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Alexander Keznick of No. 178 Sharon street, was crushed to death beneath the wheels of a heavily laden coal truck, near his home today.

According to James Moynihan, employed as driver by the Tait Coal Company, the Keznick boy ran out from the sidewalk in front of the truck.

HOMER SMITH, Michigan heavyweight, who stood off Luis Firpo and Harry Wills, says he will prick the Jack Sharkey bubble when he clashes with the sensational Roxbury heavyweight in the feature ten-round bout of a heavyweight tournament at Braves Field tomorrow night.

You only have to take one [illegible] at Smith to realize the fighting [illegible] abilities. He is a big fellow, [illegible] pounds, [illegible] with tremendous shoulder and [illegible] development. He is able to land a powerful blow while he is immune to punishment judging by the way he fought back after taking the best that Firpo and Wills had to offer.

Perhaps Sharkey is being rushed along too fast by Manager Johnny Buckley. There are quite a few shrewd judges of ring affairs who believe that the heavy hitting Sharkey has not had quite enough ring experience to conquer Smith. They point to the fact Homer will have a weight advantage of from fifteen to twenty pounds, years of experience on his side and the sureness that comes to a fighter after he has swapped blows with headliners like Wills and Firpo.

* * *

SHARKEY has shown more real ability than any heavyweight who has come to the front since Dempsey started to bowl over the opposition. In the navy, the twenty-two-year-old Roxbury youth engaged in eighty bouts. He won all of them by knockouts inside of the limit. He has had six professional contests and has improved greatly with each match. In his last bout he registered the biggest upset of the season when he handed Floyd Johnson a decisive setback. Johnson entered the ring a 10 to 4 favorite. He was completely outclassed by the Roxbury youth, being knocked down in the first round and thumped part way through the ropes in the fourth session.

* * *

PHYSICALLY Sharkey is almost a duplicate of Dempsey. Like the Manassa man he is also able to score damaging blows with each hand. His left hook to the jaw and body are as fast as lightning itself. His right hand also lands with crushing effect. Furthermore, he moves around the ring with dazzling speed. Even Dempsey did not show the improvement with each bout that has been a feature of Sharkey's work. This writer believes that Sharkey has at least an even chance of defeating the more experienced and heavier opponent tomorrow night.

* * *

BATTLING McCREARY, world's colored light-heavyweight champion, will oppose Leo Gates, the Mohawk Indian from North Adams, in the semi-final of ten rounds. There is almost as much interest in the meeting between McCreary and Gates as there is in the Sharkey-Smith contest.

McCreary is today the world's leading colored fighter. Kid Norfolk and Harry Wills are both on the old side which places Alex McLean's protege out front. McCreary scored recent wins over Jack Taylor of New York and Joe McGann of Newark. He has been training with Sharkey and will be in the best condition of his career when he enters the ring with Gates.

* * *

GATES is today as great a boxing card in New York as Sharkey is in Boston. The Indian is six feet two inches tall and weighs [illegible] pounds. Like most members of his race he has a perfect body. He has engaged in 35 bouts as a professional and has won most of them. He can punch, also box and besides is a good ring general.

When our own Jim Maloney of South Boston made his New York invasion he showed rare courage by agreeing to meet such an experienced puncher as Gates. Johnny McGrath figured that if Maloney could win over Gates that he would be "made" immediately in the big town. Maloney put up a stout-hearted battle, but was knocked out in the fourth round. No green fighter can hope to stay the distance with the Indian. McCreary will require all of his resourcefulness, punching power, ability to take a wallop and speed if he is to avoid being scalped at the Wigwam tomorrow night.

The fact that Gates will be doing his stuff at the Tepee of the Tribe should make him feel very much at home.

BRAVES SWAP WINS WITH REDS

Cincinnati, July 14—The Braves and Reds swapped shutouts in their Sunday double header. The Braves won the first, 4 to 0, and the Reds won the final, 6 to 0.

Tim McNamara did the pitching in the opening game for the Braves, opposed by Luque. McNamara was three times threatened with destruction but upon each occasion he scrambled out of his trouble by some brilliant pitching.

Ernie Padgett was the batting hero of the second game. He proved Luque's nemesis. His bat knocked in three of the four Boston runs while Billy Cunningham knocked home the other.

Only three tribal runners reached second base while none saw third.

SCHOLZ TO RUN AT SCOTCH GAMES

Olympic athletes will be in competition in the coming Scotch games to be held at Caledonian Grove, West Roxbury, Saturday afternoon August 2. Chairman John Speirs of the Boston Caledonian Club already is in touch with many of the Olympic contenders and he is making all arrangements to have as many of the American winners as possible in the coming games.

Jackson Scholz the 200-metre champion has cabled that he will positively be on hand if he can make the connections. He is going to return to America immediately after the Olympic games and will do his best to come to the Scotch games.

Other athletes who are expected to compete are Fred Tootell the Olympic hammer throwing champion who has always been a competitor in the Scotch games, and Joie Ray, who wants one more crack at the Walter Scott mile.

In addition to these stars, the B. A. A., Dorchester Club, Community A. A. and other leading athletic organizations will enter full teams in the coming contests. Entries for the games close with John Speirs, No. 39 High street, Boston, Mass.

FOUR RACES AT NORTHAMPTON

Northampton, July 14.—Four days of races will be given here this week under the auspices of the Bay State Circuit. W. H. Dickinson of Hatfield is in charge, and the frst series will be staged Tuesday.

The program is an interesting one. Several early closing events are on the card.

Three big races feature the meet. One of these is a 2:15 trot, three in five, and the purse is $2,000. Event number two of magnitude also is for a $2,000 purse, but two out of three heats will decide the winner. Two-year-olds will be seen in this event.

Another $2,000 purse for 2:15 pacers. Three heats out of five will determine the owner of the money.

Five $1,000 races and two $500 races are on the card as well as a large number of open races.

YACHT CLUBS HAVE FAIR DAY FOR RACES

Sunday racing got going under full sail yesterday afternoon at Marblehead, the Eastern and Corinthian clubs both giving series. A heavy fog lay over the harbor all morning without showing perceivable signs of lifting so that the racing was postponed until noon.

The "S" class held its first Sunday race, starting off Marblehead Rock. The craft were given a beat to the Pigs and a run back. "Phil" Benson put the Reaper III out ahead and kept her there, winning by a good margin from the Stella.

The "O" class team race developed into a hard-fought match. "Bob" Thayer brought the Surprise in first with the Artrichi sailed by "Dick" Thayer second. Astern of these were three "reds" followed by another "blue" and then a "red." The "blues" led the "reds," 18 to 17.

Attending physicians are hopeful that Representative Canty will be discharged from the hospital by the first of August.

Short Sports of All Sorts

Bill Tilden

HARVEY SNODGRASS of Los Angeles qualified for the final round of the singles of the national clay court championship by defeating the veteran, Clarence J. Griffin of San Francisco, ex-clay court champion, in a fourset match, before an enthusiastic gallery of 3,500. The score was 6—4, 2—6, 6—4.

William T. Tilden, 2d, and A. L. Wiener of Philadelphia, reached the doubles final by a victory over Griffin and Brian I. C. Norton, St. Louis 10—8, 6—2, 6—3.

In the first doubles match of the day Robert and Howard Kinsey of San Francisco, clay court doubles champions, defeated R. E. Schlesinger of Australia and Alfred H. Chapin, Jr. of Springfield, Mass, 6—2, 6—1, 6—4.

The finals in the invitation tournament for juniors and boys will be played Monday with Al Wiener of Philadelphia opposing Emmett Pare of Chicago in the junior division and Walter Thomas, Orange, N. J., opposing Thomas Mogiynn, Philadelphia, for the boys' title.

The prevailing southwest wind blew strong and kicked up a choppy sea giving the boats of the Annisquam Club racing yachts plenty of trouble. Merrill Wiggin, in the Catspaw, got to the leeward mark first on the Cat class; Russell Smith in the Caterpillar being close astern, with the Catchup third boat. The same positions were maintained from Plum Cove to the inner mark.

A Cuban tennis team, recruited from the Vedada and Loma Tennis Clubs of Havana, arrived at New York en route to Ottawa, Can., to compete July 24-26 with the Canadian Davis Cup team.

If victorious, the Cubans will then engage the Japanese team at Montreal. This is the first time a Cuban net team has entered the Davis Cup field.

St. Louis, a chestnut pacer, owned by Frank C. Niles of Kansas City, broke a front leg while training on the Great Barrington track, and had to be shot. The pacer, which Mr. Niles bought two years ago in Indianapolis, recently went a mile in 2.07¼, while winning a heat of the $10,000 pace at Windsor, Ct.

The Bay State trotting circuit moves on to Northampton this week. The annual four-day meeting opens tomorrow. One of the features will be a pacing race for three-year-olds and under for a purse of $500. It is the first race of its kind to be held on the New England half-mile tracks this season.

In the second elimination series of the Quincy Yacht Club races, sailed off the clubhouse, the Hank eliminated Wee Scott and the Ruth eliminated Oh Min. The Ruth sailed the course in the best time, bounding over the seven miles in a strong southwest wind in 1 hour, 59 minutes and 52 seconds.

Two yachts of the Marconi class of the Squantum Yacht Club fleet were overturned in a sudden squall off Hangman's Island during the race. The yachts were the Flapper, Capt. S. S. Heap, and the Babakins, Capt. S. W. Ferguson.

The United tates dropped out of the Olympics sabre team competition suffering defeats at the hands of the smashing Hungarians and the fiery Italians.

Belgium, Spain and Denmark were eliminated along with the Americans.

QUINN IS DISPLEASED WITH WORK OF BOXMEN

By NICK FLATLEY.

President Bob Quinn has been talking with much feeling to his Red Sox pitchers. Paying them large salaries, President Bob is naturally entitled to do that, when they take their large salaries, but refuse steadily and consistently to take the enemy.

The Red Sox pitchers haven't been delivering to any great extent for the past fortnight or so. They may take the talking to seriously, and proceed to win ball games from now out. Because when the president decides to make speeches he uses forceful words, and swelling sentences, and expressive epithets.

QUINN WANTS RESULTS.

He doesn't mind paying the big salaries, but as one working man to others he thinks there should be a commensurate return for the scads handed out. Bob is quite a spellbinder. We feel sure, for instance, that he tried his eloquence on Curtis Fullerton and Lefty Fuhr recently. Anyhow, Curtis has won two ball games in a row, and the southpaw unfurled one great contest last week.

That was a great indication of future prosperity for the Sox, until the rest of the staff crumpled up singly, severally and unanimously. If President Bob talks to them, though, as he can and should, they may snap out of it, and still make the summer somewhat useful for the native baseball fans.

SOX PITCHERS ARE WEAK.

Any kind of pitching would keep the Fenway athletes above the .500 mark in the standing of the clubs, which is the pennant contender figure in this hectic race. The boys generally blast off enough runs to win any normally tossed ball game. But with the enemy going into the double figures every so often, all the hitting there is wouldn't help much.

The cause, however, isn't hopeless. With Ferguson, Fullerton, Pierce and Fuhr able to go the full distance once in a while, and George Murray showing signs of the same delightful habit, Ehmke and Quinn, the real mound aces, can collect enough rest to figure prominently in each series. The club, by snapping back in the remaining games of this Western invasion can go out for the August trip in good position to raise the dickens with the race.

Ike Boone and Joe Harris, the hitting cripples, will both be back this week, and the effect of their presence may boost the morale, which isn't as good as it used to be. Ike and Joe haven't any jobs nailed down unless they keep mauling the ball, and that can't be done from the bench.

The surprising showing of Todt, in the field and at bat, and the consistent hitting of John Collins, has several of the regulars worried, and the boys who slump are likely to find themselves getting unwanted vacations.

Jawn Evers shoots his swatting Chisox at the Fohls again this P. M. and stopping that outfit is a tough proposition just now. The club as a whole is hitting almost .300, and welcomes weak pitching with nine times three of those raucous huzzas.

AUTOS TO RACE 150 MILES ON DIRT TRACK

Syracuse, N. Y., July 14.—For the first time in the history of automobile racing in America a race of 150 miles over a dirt track will be staged when the world's greatest drivers meet in a contest at the New York State Fair on September 13.

AMERICANS ARE OUT OF SABRE CONTEST

Colombes, France, July 14—The United States dropped out of the Olympics sabre team competition, suffering defeats at the hands of the smashing Hungarians and the fiery Italians.

Argentina came through the second round with two victors in a style that showed the Argentines capable of giving the Europeans a hard struggle.

Belgium, Spain and Denmark were eliminated along with the Americans, each being defeated twice. The fight for first honors is likely to be hotly contested on today's showing, for Argentina, Hungary, Holland and Italy displayed about equal skill and all were generously endowed with combativeness.

Argentina's defeats of Spain, 12 to 3, and Holland, 10 to 6, gained the South Americans a strong claim to rank with the best.

Gentlemen:

In using Rinso on "Fruit of the Loom" fabrics, we found that it made wonderfully rich suds particularly useful in loosening dirt. All soil and soap came out in the rinsing, leaving the cloth white and fresh. Compared to other ways of washing, the time consumed was remarkably short.

If washed with Rinso, in accordance with instructions on the box, we feel that "Fruit of the Loom" fabrics and garments manufactured from them, ought to give long and satisfactory service as hard rubbing is not necessary.

Very truly yours,

B. B. & R. Knight, Inc.

33-L

WHITE cotton fabrics form a good part of your family wash. You have always insisted on having them washed spotless even if it almost broke your back.

But now you can have that same satisfaction without the desperately hard work. You can soak dirt out of your clothes with Rinso, the new kind of soap for the family wash.

Soaking in it loosens all the dirt

Soaking in Rinso takes the place of the hard rubbing that used to wear you out. The Rinso suds are so rich in cleansing power that they loosen even ground-in dirt. Play clothes, collar bands and cuff edges now come clean with a sprinkle of dry Rinso and only a light rubbing between your fingers.

Rich cleansing power lies in these wonderful suds

Be sure to use enough Rinso to get lasting suds after the clothes have been put in. Then soaking in Rinso floats the dirt out.

The secret of Rinso's cleansing power lies in the firm lasting suds. When clothes are very soiled or when the water is hard you will need more Rinso—just let the suds guide you always. This completely dissolved soapiness will safely soak the dirt right out. Then a good rinse to flush the loosened dirt away and that good-looking wash of yours is ready for the line.

Made by the makers of Lux, this new laundry soap is just as wonderful for the family wash as Lux is for all fine things.

Rinso is also wonderful for washing dishes, for floors, linoleum, woodwork, and enameled surfaces.

Get a supply of Rinso today. All grocers carry it in the regular size and big new package. Lever Bros. Co., Cambridge, Mass.

Whether you Soak—Boil—or use a Washing Machine—
RINSO is the only soap you need on washday

The Intensely True Story of a Boston Girl Who Seeks a Love That Is Real

[illegible] can't come when [illegible] here

Scott waited in the shadow of trees in the far corner of the grounds. He was fair haired, strongly built, with an [illegible] swing to his shoulders. [illegible]

[illegible] This [illegible] I don't know what to do." He said it with a simple plea, as though Chickie should tell him. "That's why I went away. It did no good."

Scott shrugged with a cynical [illegible] want me around. He thinks I'm bound to spoil it. I'm older than [illegible]

A blush that was frank and gave him an eager, boyish look went to his forehead. "Yes [illegible]. I haven't a great deal of money. Why? Do you think I do wrong? We've talked it all over. [illegible] knows what she would have to give up."

"She is only eighteen."

He glanced at Chickie, his jaw clinched. He walked over to a tree, and then returned. "Yes, but she won't regret it. I'm sure of that."

Chickie thought [illegible] of things. All of [illegible] Yet she believed in Paul Scott. With a sudden impulse she put out her hand. "I hope you win. I hope you do. But think of her first—won't you?"

ROUND TRIP TO EUROPE FOR $236.

How can I get the most out of my ration money," seems to be anered by the special European rs which are arranged by various amship lines for those who are xious to have their vacation instment bring in something more an the usual Summer resort means.

Especially interesting among the iropean tours are the special round ps to Europe featured by the Cun1 Line, exclusively for tourists, ichers, and students, for only $236. This fare includes hotel accomodations, railroad fares, tours of Paris, ndon and many interesting towns se to these big cities and an aeroine flight in Handley Page planes m Paris to London, as well as a round trip fare, third class to rope.

The total expense of $236 is less an the one way first-class fare for a ship alone. These round trips ve been so arranged that they can covered in three weeks, the usual igth of a Summer vacation for ice workers, and this makes it ssible for a vast number of people spend two weeks on the ocean d a week ashore in the two great- cities in the Eastern hemisphere. The ships carrying these cheap an excursions are the "Mauretania," "Berengaria," "Lancastria" 1 "Saxonia," and the next sailings 1 be on August 9 and 16.

The itinerary includes the call at erbourg, two days in Paris, one be spent in a sight-seeing drive out the city; hotel and meals; ve by airplane for London; two s in London, one to be spent in seeing drive about the city; a trip to the Shakespeare counhotel and meals; leave on sixth by rail for Liverpool or hampton and embark for New .

LAKE PLACID CLUB MAKES DISCOVERY:

Found, fifteen hours from the State House, in the heart of the Adirondacks, the secret of eternal youth!

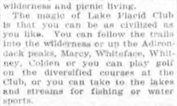
LAKE PLACID GOLF MATCH

This is how members of the Lake Placid Club feel about their unique sports club tucked away between Lakes Placid, Mirror and Cascade, backed by mountains and surrounded by forest.

They tell you at the club that if you don't grow younger every day at Lake Placid, your case is hopeless and Ponse de Leon's fountain of youth itself could do nothing for you.

Lake Placid Club is on the edge of the real Adirondack wilderness, but life up there is not all trackless wilderness and picnic living.

The magic of Lake Placid Club is that you can be as civilized as you like. You can follow the trails into the wilderness or up the Adirondack peaks, Marcy, Whiteface, Whitney, Colden or you can play golf on the diversified courses at the Club, or you can take to the lakes and streams for fishing or water sports.



TENNIS AT LAKE PLACID

You may be a very cozy member indeed, inclined to near views, near trails, friendly ponds among the pines, quiet, sunsets, or indoor comfort. For such there is the daily music of the Boston Symphony Ensemble, lectures, movies, the great library with its roomy chairs and lake views and wood fires.

The long and the short of it is, however, that in these days of receding borderlands and disappearing wildernesses and too many trollies and telephones and radio fans, not to have seen the Lake Placid Club and followed its trails is not to have seen the Adirondacks.

COMFORTABLE BED IN OVERLAND COUPE

CAMPING TRIPS MADE EASY

Three Boston men who agreed to go on a short camping trip, decided to start the journey in an automobile. A Coupe Sedan was purchased from the Boston Overland Company, No. 533 Commonwealth Avenue, and with only the addition of some bed clothing, a couple of chairs and table, cooking utensils and old clothes, all packed conveniently in the car the trio set out. In a cool glade they made camp as shown above. Without the aid of tools, all the cushions were easily adjusted on the floor making a very comfortable bed right in the car. This Overland Coupe Sedan, taken right from stock, was the vehicle and living quarters of the trio.

BEVERLY HEAT VICTIM KILLS HIMSELF

For two days Hiram B. Adams, sixty-three years old, foreman at the Beverly plant of the United Shoe Machinery Corporation, had been suffering from the heat.

Finally, his wife and daughter heard a scream from his room at No. 35 Bow street, Beverly. They found the door locked. They summoned aid and the door was broken in.

Adams was dead on his bed with his throat slashed. A bloodstained razor was at his side. The medical examiner said it was a case of suicide.

COLE DECLARES BAY STATERS FOR DAVIS

"It was their back-to-the-wall fight that forced the convention to nominate broadminded men," declared General Cole.

He said that the publicity that resulted from this convention is worth at least $10,000,000 to the party and that "Massachusetts Democrats will loyally support the ticket of Davis and Bryan."

In discussing the fact that Mr. Davis was employed as an attorney by the banking house of J. P. Morgan & Company, General Cole said: "He has also been counsel for the United Mine Workers of America and the Window Glass Workmen's Union."

General Cole paid tribute to Governor Smith of New York who he said lived up to and even beyond the standard set for him by this State when like the thoroughbred that he is, he withdrew for the sake of party harmony and then came out at once in enthusiastic support of Davis and Bryan.

BONUS BUREAU RUSHED, BUT ANSWERS ALL QUESTIONS

Questions without end continue to pour in upon the experts of the American-Advertiser Soldiers' Friend Bureau. The best part of it is that said experts continue to answer them.

There is no problem relating to the bonus and those entitled to it which the bureau cannot solve. Its services are extended free, and the more questions the better those in charge will be pleased.

Thousands of veterans are being aided and advised. In this connection it may not be amiss to give again the advice passed out the other day relative to discharge papers. Keep those papers. Don't send them to Washington. Don't send them to the American-Advertiser Bureau.

Below you will find a few samples of the questions that are being propounded and answered daily by the Soldier's Friend.

J. A. D., Plymouth, N. H.

Q.—I served from October 3, 1917, to May 28, 1919, with one year of overseas service. Am I entitled to the Bonus, and is it necessary to go to Boston to have the application made out?

A.—If you were discharged from the service under honorable conditions, you are eligible to the Bonus. An application blank is being mailed to you, together with instruction sheet which you should follow closely in answering the questions called for by the application. If you do not understand how to complete the blank ask a friend to help you, or go to any American Legion Post.

MRS. C. L. H., East Boston, Mass.

Q.—I am the widow of a veteran who received an honorable discharge. I am now receiving his government insurance money every month. My husband named his sister as beneficiary under the government policy. Am I entitled to the Bonus or is she?

A.—If you have not remarried since the death of your husband, you will be the only person entitled to make application for the Bonus.

W. G. P., Roxbury, Mass.

Q.—I enlisted March 11, 1918, went overseas June 30, 1918, returned July 4, 1919, and was discharged July 16, 1919. At my age of 31 what will be the amount of my Bonus policy?

A.—From your length of service, the value of your adjusted compensation policy will be about $1,200.

A. F., SPRINGFIELD, MASS.

Q. I served in the Army from June 14, 1918, to January 3, 1918, one half of the service being overseas. How will the Bonus be paid to me?

A. After deducting the first 60 days of home service, you will be entitled to a credit of $1.00 a day for such service and $1.25 a day for overseas service. As your bonus credit will amount to over $50.00, it will be turned into a 20 year paid-up policy with a face value of about $146.00.

A DEAD VETERAN'S MOTHER, BOSTON, MASS.

Q. My son was in the Navy from September, 1917, until his discharge after the war. I was dependent on him for support when he died. Am I entitled to the Bonus and how much? My son's discharge papers are lost.

A. You are eligible to make application for the Bonus. It will not be necessary for you to have a copy of the discharge papers. All that is required of you is to answer the questions to the best of your knowledge and ability. If you will call at our Bureau, we will be glad to help you fill out the application.

M. L. C., NEWPORT, R. I.

Q.—Please tell me where a veteran can have his bonus application blank filled out in Newport.

A.—Veterans of the World War living in Newport may receive assistance in filling out their bonus applications by calling at any American Legion Post or any other veterans' organization. The instruction sheet accompanying the bonus blank will give you complete detailed information as to how to fill out the application blank. It should be read over carefully and followed with great care. Ask your friends to help you fill it out if you are unable to do so yourself.

J. A. MacA., CLAREMONT, N. H.

Q.—I am a World War veteran. I enlisted in the army at the age of twenty-one, served at home from December 14, 1917, to July 18, 1918, overseas service from July 19, 1918, to March 6, 1919, and was discharged April 29, 1919. What will be the maximum credit allowed to me and payable at the end of twenty years?

A.—You will be entitled to a credit of $1.00 a day for each day of home service after deducting the first 60 days, plus $1.25 a day for each day of overseas service. The result, when multiplied by 2½, will give you the approximate face value of the twenty-year paid-up policy which you will receive, amounting to about $1,150.

FAMOUS FIRSTS

By Mark Stuyvesant

IF Queen Elizabeth had given her favorite, Sir Walter Raleigh, more freedom, instead of keeping him at her court, he would be known today as one of the greatest heroes in history. For Raleigh had the potentialities of a great [illegible] and explorer. As it is, we [illegible] think of Sir Walter Raleigh in any other connection than as the gallant gentleman who spread his cloak over a puddle in order that the Queen might not have to wet her shoes.

But Raleigh did more for England than save her precious Queen the distasteful task of walking through a puddle. He inspired England to colonize, to spread her power over the world and become an empire. He sent an expedition at his own cost—to explore the land directly north of Florida. His men took possession of an area of land for Raleigh which they called "Virginia" after their virgin Queen. This was England's first colony and started her on the road to becoming the great empire she is today.

Raleigh was a tall, handsome, cultured, witty man of thirty and he won great favor in the eyes of the Queen. She permitted him to levy taxes which brought him a fortune, knighted him and he soon became a member of Parliament. There was but one disadvantage—Queen Elizabeth liked him so well that she virtually tied him to her train.

When Raleigh was inspired with the idea that England ought to colonize, she made him send others instead of going himself. But when the Queen showed the Earl of Essex favoritism, Raleigh left the Court and went to his estate in Ireland, taking with him seeds of potatoes and tobacco which had been found in Virginia.

Raleigh left Ireland to help fight the Spanish Armada, however, and soon regained his old position in Court. But not long thereafter he fell in love with Elizabeth Throckmorton, one of the Queen's maids of honor. The Queen was jealous and furious. She cast them both into prison and they probably would have remained there had it not been that the Queen needed Raleigh to establish order at the docks when a fleet returned heavily laden with riches. Raleigh was given his freedom after this and he married his lady love.

When Elizabeth died and James I. took the throne, Raleigh was convicted of treason—upon the false testimony of his enemies—and thrown into the Tower of London, where his wife and children joined him. While there he was visited by Edmund Spenser and other poets and scholars who knew and loved him. He was released from prison in 1616.

TODAY

to hate us, and having those little boys and girls the future owners of the United States, this country will choose the "hate" much as we deplore it.

UNITED STATES athletes have secured the track and field championship in the Olympic games. Those are the most important events, since they indicate possession of the most intense nervous and mental concentration.

Running, jumping, etc., mean nothing now except as they indicate brain and nerve power behind the record. This mixed race of ours, which is NOT a "Nordic" race, a Latin race, a Semitic or Celtic race, is doing as mixed races have done for centuries, in Greece, Rome, France, England—beating races that have allowed the breed to stagnate.

THE IMPORTANCE of caring for the eyes and teeth of school children has been emphasized here and in 1,000 other places within a year. Usually you are told that it is no part of the taxpayer's duty to care for the eyes and teeth of other men's children.

But if taxpayers teach the children why not protect their health?

HERE'S A BETTER argument for the taxpayers. It is shown that defective eyesight adds $130,000,000 a year to the cost of public school education. If spending ten, or even fifty millions a year on the children's health would cut 130 millions from annual taxes, the taxpayers would not object.

WEALTH, MEANING private wealth, does NOT pay for the public schools, as you know. The parents of public school children have the cost of their education ADDED TO THE RENT THEY PAY, and to the cost of living.

PUNISHING THE wicked bootlegger and rum runner is a complicated task. Rum runners rush through the dark waters in the night, with no lights burning. Police Lieutenant Dennis Glavin decided to fight the devil with his own fire. So he put out all the lights on his police boat and went hunting rum runners.

The captain of the United States revenue cutter Surveyor thought he knew a "dark" rum runner at sight, so he fired on the darkened police boat and shot Lieutenant Glavin.

NATIONAL AND State governments want to stop bootlegging. A majority of the people want it stopped—at least that is the supposition. Yet the bootlegging goes on, with no sign of diminution. It supplies an ancient habit and an intense craving—two difficult things to fight. Only intense public indignation backing up the authorities could stop bootlegging, and that indignation is lacking. The people laugh—a bad sign.

HOW TO KEEP WELL

By Dr. F. X. Mahoney

Boston Health Commissioner

COLORBLINDNESS is an affliction of which most people know but little. It is an inability to distinguish between certain colors, but many cases that are supposed to be color-blindness are in reality color-ignorance.

Dr. Mahoney.

In such cases there has been no effort to educate the eye to detect even the basic colors, much less their different shades.

Color-blindness is much more prevalent among males than females. Investigation shows that one out of every twenty-five females are afflicted.

Excessive use of tobacco and alcohol are the causes for much of the color-blindness that exists. When a smoker discovers that he cannot distinguish easily between certain colors, particularly green and red, it is a warning signal that his tobacco is doing him harm. The present bootleg alcohol is also dangerous in this respect—but from this evil color-blindness is one of the mildest afflictions that arise.

A blow on the head has been known to bring about color-blindness. Red and green are the colors that are mostly involved in color-blindness, the sufferer from the malady being unable to distinguish between these two, but in the worst cases there is a total inability to distinguish between blue and yellow.

There is nothing that can be done to correct the condition after it has once become acute, but it is an excellent idea to have your eyes examined from time to time, so that any beginning of the condition may be noted and possibly corrected.

Is diabetes a diseased condition of the blood or of the kidneys, or what is it?

M. A., FALMOUTH.

Answer—Diabetes is a disease in which the food is not properly assimilated and as a result, sugar appears in the urine. Increase of appetite, and thirst and loss of weight are among the prominent symptoms.

I have great difficulty in getting to sleep lately. Please tell me what I can do to help me to get to sleep.

MRS. E. A. J., SOMERVILLE.

Answer—Mental tiredness often causes the same sleeplessness as physical tiredness, for the reason of inability to relax. A warm water bath just before retiring will prevent [illegible] because of the mental stimulus induced by the beverage. There must be complete relaxation in order to sleep well.

Is cancer a contagious disease? My sister has one and I am afraid to be taking care of her.

MRS. W. W., SOUTH BOSTON.

Answer—Cancer is not a contagious disease. There is no instance recorded where a doctor or nurse ever contracted this disease from a patient.

FINANCE

By B. C. Forbes

Some day this is going to happen: Merchants who have been congratulating themselves on the wisdom of their hand-to-mouth buying policy will experience a quickened demand for goods, but will discover, when they hurriedly seek new supplies, that manufacturers and jobbers have been following the same extremely cautious policy and have not on hand the merchandise needed. When this arises, the developments will be lively.

* * *

Are we getting nearer the probability of such an occurrence?

No one expects, of course, any broad outbursts of business activity during midsummer weeks. But it may not be significant that the number of price declines is decreasing and that the number of price advances is increasing. Dun's records that last week there were 28 advances and 31 declines, the best showing in some time.

Here is a headline from a Sunday morning newspaper: "Grains, cotton, wheat, corn, lard, sugar, coffee, all up in one week."

* * *

The week brought important developments of an encouraging nature.

An impressive advance in sterling can be interpreted as reflecting increasing confidence in the outlook for the adoption of the Dawes Plan, although [illegible] of an advance in the Bank of England rate may have also been a sentimental influence.

Corn, by far the most valuable of our agricultural crops, has reached a new top. Even though the remarkably attractive price has been brought out partly by unfavorable growing weather, the majority of farmers in the corn States can count upon reaping the best profits since war-inflated prices disappeared.

Wheat has continued in demand, the latest quotations barely touched, and no hard data. A dispatch from Kansas City says:

"The prosperity of the Middle West is quickening with new life as the golden stream of Kansas wheat begins pouring through its arteries. The flow of new grain rapidly is being turned into cash."

Cotton, after irregular fluctuations, has again risen very sharply in New York for July delivery. In fact, the New York market has all the earmarks of an unsettling process.

The Department of Labor now reports an upward tendency in foodstuffs in general.

* * *

* * *

Both stocks and bonds have again reached a new peak for the year.

While certain stocks unquestionably are being manipulated by professional speculators, there are definite indications that the public are showing interest. Inquiries received by the brokers concerning proposed purchases show a marked increase. Both rails and industrials are looked upon with favor.

Then, of course, the cheapness of money is having its effect upon the bond market, since it has become difficult, sometimes impossible, to put out funds on either call or time.

Furthermore, new security offerings, although quite numerous, continue to be readily absorbed on terms agreeable to the borrowers.

* * *

There has arisen a distinctly stronger tendency to give due consideration to the favorable features of the situation. More [illegible] pessimism is giving way to optimism in responsible circles.

The Presidential nominations are acceptable to our financial and business leaders. In the East, both Calvin Coolidge and John W. Davis are regarded as possessing full knowledge of the importance of encouraging [illegible] business and employment.

La Follette's activity is [illegible] uneasiness, but since the Farmer-Labor Party has come out against him, the danger of political disturbance is viewed as having diminished. The reasoning followed by Republicans and others is that La Follette is likely to attract more Democratic than Republican votes.

Consequently, our business and financial leaders [illegible] until November before [illegible] greater measure of confidence and enterprise.

* * *

The least satisfactory development has been the reduction in employment in a number of industries and some extension of short-time operations. The most satisfactory development has been the distinct improvement in agricultural prices. Our farmers bid fair to receive substantially more profitable returns than they were receiving a year ago for such commodities as wheat, corn, rye, [illegible] cattle, pigs, lard, butter and eggs.

This means gratifying strengthening of our economic foundations.

NEW HIGHS ARE ESTABLISHED IN NEW YORK

Under the impetus of pool operations, stock prices moved upward at the opening of today's New York market, with the chemical and equipment issues making rapid forward strides.

New high records for the year were established by various issues.

Stewart Warner was forced down 2¼ points and General Electric, American Water Works, United Fruit and Tob Products were heavy.

The sustained strength of many popular issues, however, brought increasing nervousness to the short interests as mounting prices failed to induce realizing of any consequence.

U. S. Steel repeated last week's high mark of 101⅞ and International Paper was in demand around 48.

Davison Chem extended its gain to 12 points and the preferred advanced 10 on reports that the company was entitled to collect damages of about $[illegible] from its [illegible]. Reflecting the increased public participation in the stock market, brokers' loans were said to have increased [illegible] since May 15. Call money opened at 2 per cent.

Brazilian Bonds Have Fresh Sharp Recession

Further sharp recessions in Brazilian bonds today followed reports of the spread of the revolution and the march of the rebels on the government base at Santos. Scores of these issues, which featured today's bond trading, carried the Central Railway 7s down another 4 points, and the Rio de Janeiro 8s, Sao Paulo [illegible] and Brazilian government 8s down 1 to 3½ points.

Brazilian political news led to heavy buying in the coffee futures market, where recent prices [illegible] 75 points higher, September selling at [illegible] and December selling at [illegible].

Fresh Textile Gains Are Made in Boston

Following last week's rise of nearly six points, Amoskeag Manufacturing common ran up from the opening low of [illegible] to a high of [illegible], a net gain of 6½ for the morning, while Pacific Mills went from [illegible] to 54 on top of last week's rise, which had its inception with a price of 44¼, the year's lowest.

President [illegible] of the [illegible] Company is asking stockholders to send him a check for $20 each as a loan to the company, "to be repaid at 6 per cent. interest out of the first funds available" in order to complete oil drilling on the company's Westfield oil project in Texas.

President and treasurer state that when they assumed the management it was with the understanding that they were not to be required to assist in any financing, they to serve only as managers and directors. Sufficient working capital, however, has not been forthcoming, hence the call for funds.

EASTERN MANUFACTURING.

To T. T. T.—Eastern Manufacturing Co. is listed on the Boston Stock Exchange and quoted in the Boston stock table of the Boston American whenever there is a sale. In view of general business conditions the results achieved by the management of Eastern Manufacturing to date this year are considered satisfactory. After a very bad start in January and February the company worked into profitable operations in the next three months. The third, fourth and fifth of the thirteen four-week periods into which the company divides its fiscal year showed net earnings after all charges and depreciation equal to a trifle less than twice the period's proportion of dividend requirements on the $3,814,000 7 per cent. first preferred stock.

The company has devoted earnings to strengthening its cash position. Current asset items of the balance sheet have expanded something over $120,000, which has largely gone into accounts receivable.

The company's sales fluctuate closely with the general condition of business. The paper industry has not been booming of late but Eastern Manufacturing has succeeded in holding its position in the trade in the face of sporadic price-cutting by smaller competitors. For the future officials are conservatively optimistic, anticipating a revival of business when the political skies are a little clearer.

STUTZ.

To E. F. M.—Stutz Motor Car Co. for year ended Dec. 31, 1923, shows a net loss from operations of $10,534, against a deficit of $662,378 for 1922.

	1923	1922
Net sales	$4,207,152	$2,737,218

Other deductions	114,884

To A. D. B.—Declaration of a dividend by a copper company in these days of unsettled conditions in the copper metal market, other than by the outline standard companies that have maintained payments through 1920 and 1921, naturally attracts more than usual attention.

An official of the Arizona Commercial Mining Company, when asked if it was not unusual for that company to declare a 50-cent dividend at this time when copper metal prices are at the lowest average in several years, replied: "Arizona Commercial is an unusual property."

Arizona Commercial has demonstrated its ability to more than earn a new dollar for an old even on the low average metal prices that have prevailed during this post-war period, when many a prominent property has been obliged to reduce or pass its dividend. Arizona Commercial should make money on any metal market that this country will witness during the next decade at least.

While dividends are never designated they are paid as earned, and not a dollar has thus far been taken from surplus to meet these payments. On January 31 a dividend of 50 cents a share was paid, which, including the current 50-cent declaration, will make $1 this year to July 31, the largest payment in any year since 1918, when a total of $2 was disbursed. In 1923 the company paid 50 cents a share. Nothing was paid from 1919 to 1922 inclusive, $2 in 1918, $1.60 in 1917, and 50 cents in 1916, in which year dividends were inaugurated.

Arizona Commercial has 264,949 shares outstanding so a 50 cent dividend would call for the distribution of $132,500. The 50 cent payment on January 31, or exactly six months previous to the date the current declaration is payable, also called for $132,500, or a total of $264,949 out of earnings during the first seven months of this year. And an official points out that that amount was more than earned.

WOOLWORTH.

To D. R. I.—Declaration of a quarterly dividend of 75c on the new F. W. Woolworth Co. stock, par $25, was in line with an announcement made at the time that the old stock was split up on a four-for-one basis when it was stated that such a dividend would be declared. This places the stock on a $3 annual basis, which is equivalent to $12 a share on the old. Previously dividends had been paid at the rate of $2 a share quarterly or $8 annually on the old $100 par stock. This is an increase of 50 per cent.

Stockholders are now receiving the largest return on Woolworth stock since company was incorporated in 1911. Dividend record of the $100 par stock shows that in 1912, $2 was paid; $5.50 in 1913; $6 in 1914; $6.75 in 1915; $7.75 in 1916, and from 1917 to the present time $8 annually. In addition a 30 per cent. stock dividend was paid June 1, 1920, and $2 extra on June 1, 1922. Up until its retirement in 1922 dividends were paid on preferred stock at the rate of $7 a share annually.

Sales of Woolworth this year continue to increase, with the results for the six months showing revenue of $81,272,856, an increase of $9,556,714, or 11.75 per cent. That the increase was not entirely due to the adding of new stores is shown by the fact that old stores were responsible for $5,923,340, or 7.35 per cent. of the increase.

U. S. STEEL.

To H. F. L.—United States Steel Corporation reported unfilled tonnage as of June 30 of 3,262,505 tons, a decrease of 365,584 tons.

United States Steel report on unfilled orders at end of each month compares:

	1924	1923	1922

SEEKS TO RECOVER.

To G. M. W.—Your decision to sell these three stocks has much to recommend it, but in taking on a substitute stocks like the oil there is no assurance that you will not repeat the experience you have had with the stocks you are about to sell. If you start out to recoup you will be taking chances that might be as great as those that have already proved disastrous to you.

AUSTRIAN BONDS.

To A. D. L.—Austrian government 7s come in $500 pieces and are supported by guarantees of several of the largest European countries. These bonds, however, are not what we would recommend for a person in your circumstances. You can get between 6 and 7 per cent. on Denmark 6s, 1942, and Norway 6s, 1943. These bonds are not likely to be influenced as much by political developments in Europe as the Austrian 7s would be.

UNITED RAILWAYS.

To G. M. L.—Coincident with the movement of Philadelphia Company common stock to a new high for the year, United Railways Investment shares have been active at higher prices. As the latter controls 492,000 shares of Philadelphia Company common stock and having only 158,200 shares of its own preferred stock outstanding, each point advance in Philadelphia Company common shares (492,000 shares controlled) means theoretically $3 a share on United Railways preferred.

There are no special developments pending in the affairs of either company, according to those close to the management. Philadelphia Company common dividend, now $4 annually on $50 par, is not likely to be increased, it is stated, and United Railways Investment Company affairs have not yet reached a stage where there is any likelihood of discussion of an advance in the near future.

United Railways Investment, it is pointed out, has some $12,000,000 of 5 per cent. collateral trust sinking fund bonds due in May, 1926. Owing to present conditions in the money market there has been some discussion as to the advisability of refunding a refunding operation in the near future, though whether this will materialize at once or be left until a later date has not yet been decided.

Deriving its income from holdings on Pittsburgh Utilities Corporation stocks, net income for United Railways Investment Company for 1924 can be fairly well estimated. This year income from all sources will approximate $4 a share on 158,200 shares of United Railways preferred stock.

"KATY"

To S. O. T.—It is not often that one finds securities of a recently reorganized company so ardently sought as those of "Katy." Usually the odor of reorganization remains long after the burden has been discharged.

Last year, the first of the new company, although the first three months were under the supervision of the receiver, "Katy" earned all interest requirements and preferred dividend, and a little over a dollar on the common stock.

In the four months ended April, notwithstanding a decrease of $900,000 in gross revenues, net income was $4,500,000, as compared with $3,000,000 in the same period a year ago, an increase of 50 per cent. Balance after all charges was $800,000, equal to nearly double the preferred dividend requirements for the period, and about fifty cents on the common. A year ago the balance earned on the stocks in these four months was $300,000.

This excellent showing is due wholly to a reduction in operating expenses of over 7 per cent. With gross this year equal to that of a year ago, a continuation of this saving alone would mean $5 on the common stock. Inasmuch as the late months of the year show substantially larger earnings, especially net, this year is likely to witness some record figures in that respect.

INTERNATIONAL TELEPHONE.

To D. N. G.—International Telephone & Telegraph Co. and subsidiaries report for March 31 quarter net income of $494,995. After depreciation, allowance for preferred dividends and minority interest in surplus of subsidiaries, this is equivalent to $2.53 per share on 174,174 common shares outstanding, compared with net income of $417,577 or $2.32 per share on 150,723 common shares outstanding in first quarter of 1923.

The income account of International Telephone & Telegraph Co. for the quarter ended March 31, 1924, compares as follows:

Quarter end. March 31:	1924	1923
Total oper revenue	$1,334,281	$1,171,781

MANUFACTURES ARE SHOWING LARGE GAIN

By FRANK H. MELOON, Financial Editor.

Manufacturing activities in the thriving United States in 1924 were evidently far better than in 1921 and may turn out to compare favorably with the phenomenally high record of 1919. This indication, says the Trade Record of The National City Bank of New York, is distinctly "subject to revision" by reason of the fact that the census returns of manufactures in 1923 thus far given to the public only include a dozen groups of manufactures.

But as the aggregate value of their outturn in 1923 is over $500,000,000 against but $274,000,000 in 1921, and $373,000,000 in the high-record year 1919, the suggestion that the full record of 1923 will materially exceed 1921 and perhaps approximate the high record of 1919 seems justified.

Take locomotives for example; the total outturn of locomotives as reported by the census of 1923 is in value $216,323,000 against $101,071,000 in 1921 and 156,270,000 in 1919. The number of wage earners employed in locomotive manufacturing in 1923 was 30,627 against 16,5[illegible] in 1921 and 26,715 in 1919; and the wages paid them $51,467,000 in 1923 against $20,473,000 in 1921 and $3[illegible],799,000 in the former high record year 1919.

Wool carpets are another example of the big jump in 1923 as compared with earlier years. This unexpected increase may be due in some degree to the stimulation resulting from the building activities and the establishment of new homes.

But, whatever the cause, the census record of the value of wool carpets turned out in 1923 is $157,40[illegible] against $103,881,000 in 1921 and $123,234,000 in 1919. The number of wage earners in the wool carpet industry in 1923 was 24,472 against 22,527 in 1921 and 22,953 in 1919; the wages paid them in 1923 were $47,565,000 against 34,705,000 in 1921 and $24,216,000 in 1919. Typewriters and typewriting materials are another example of the growth. The total value of the outturn in 1923 is reported by the census office at $82,230,000 against $41,789,000 in 1921, and $52,738,000 in 1919.

Electrical Export List Shows Gain of 32 Per Cent

Exports of electrical goods during May, 1924, totaled $7,206,587 as compared with $5,349,568, for the same month of 1923, this gain being quite broadly distributed over the whole range of electrical classes, according to preliminary figures just released by the Department of Commerce.

Radio exports continued to increase and to that influence was possibly due some of the good increases shown in the shipments of batteries, both primary and secondary.

A Young Man Asks

A Short Answer and Some Other Things

A young man writes: "I would rather hear about the young man of today and his chances of success than hear about Japan, Shakespeare and such things." That's reasonable.

The young man of today will have success, in accordance to his ability, if he WORKS HARD. That's all there is to the young man of today and his success chances. Work and the rest comes.

Remember how Bryan, on his knees, prayed for light in the Committee on Resolutions. The text of the prayer, now given out, reads in part as follows: "We need thy counsel, O Lord. We are carrying great responsibilities, dealing with mighty problems that vex us. We are subject to prejudice and passion and unconscious bias."

That's an interesting prayer. What other prayers do you suppose the Almighty heard at the same moment from the millions of solar systems and tens of millions of planets that float around beneath His all-seeing eye?

There are planets, with cooling suns, facing death and annihilation.

There are planets on which life is just beginning.

There are planets hundreds of millions of years older than ours that have achieved a civilization absolutely beyond our conception.

What sort of prayers go up from all those whirling specks of dust, floating in infinite space through infinite time? How wonderful is the Power that keeps track of them all and attends to them all.

If you have been worrying about our principal banks, you have wasted sympathy. They are doing nicely. The National City Bank has more than a billion. The Guaranty Trust Company has $650,000,000. The Chase National Bank has $541,000,000. The Equitable Trust has $456,000,000, and so on, all in one city. A few others have more than four hundred millions. If all business were only as good as the banking business!

Twenty-eight Sisters of Charity from Ireland and Germany, cruelly held up by the immigration authorities, are finally allowed to enter this country by an official decision from Washington. It is a common sense decision. Nothing could be more outrageous than keeping out these women, who come to work for charity and religion.

It is to be hoped that the next twenty-eight MOTHERS that come here with children, and that ordinarily would be turned back because some "quota" is exhausted, will be allowed to come in under some equally sensible ruling. Teaching and charity are noble professions. Motherhood also is at least respectable.

A Land of Contrasts

In the vaults of our Federal Treasury and our banks are stuffed more than half the supply of gold on the surface of the globe. The lending power of our great financial institutions is hardly touched even in periods of fullest employment and greatest prosperity.

And yet so faulty is the organization of our financial power that 600,000 of our Western farmers are sinking in the bog of bankruptcy.

Meanwhile two representatives of our international bankers are abroad negotiating to hand over some two thousand million dollars of our money to Germany, so that she can pay reparations to France, which has paid no cent of interest on the four thousand million dollars of American money we have advanced her already.

We have at least three men with fortunes of three hundred million dollars each. Our mere millionaires are counted by the tens of thousands. In no country since history began could the burden of taxation be so easily borne as here if that burden were scientifically distributed.

And yet we muddle along with a plan of taxation that is a laughing stock of financial experts everywhere, a system which positively drives the rich to put their hundreds of millions into tax-exempt securities which yield the government no income whatever.

But the crowning disgrace has been, and remains, our employment of child labor. Do those who read these lines realize that, at the time of the 1920 census, there were 1,060,-858 children between ten and fifteen years of age engaged in industry?

There are more than that number today, because THEN the 1919 Congressional Child Labor Law was in effect, taking 150,000 children out of quarry, coal mine and stifling cotton mill. Since then, the 1919 law has been declared unconstitutional and the children driven back to work.

In this great country, where we dream we have popular government, the Congress of the country has twice tried in vain to have a Child Labor Law that the Supreme Court would allow to remain on the statute books of the land.

At last Congress was driven to seek amendment to the Constitution, clearly enabling it to legislate on child labor. By overwhelming votes this amendment passed both houses of Congress at the last session. Before it is effective, and before Congress has the power it seeks, the amendment must be adopted by thirty-six of the forty-eight States.

That is the fight today. There are backward States where rasping employers and heartless parents live upon the labor of their children, and they will fight against it.

All the power of public opinion must get behind this crusade and stay behind it until its success is written indelibly in the Constitution of the country.

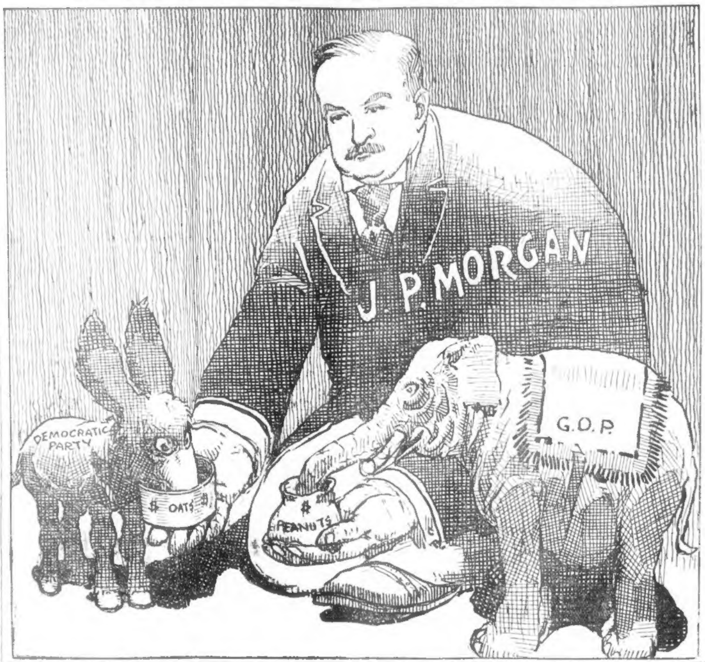
Why a Profit?

Is It Necessary?

The air mail across the continent actually "makes money." The first trip showed a net profit of $539.68. That's the great American test. But WHY is it so important to make money where the public welfare is concerned?

The really big business of the United States, bigger than steel, automobiles, moving pictures, is RAISING CHILDREN. That doesn't PAY, but if it were neglected nothing else would pay, after the first generation.

BOTH EATING OUT OF HIS HANDS



A WIFE'S MEDITATIONS

By HELEN ROWLAND

"DON'T marry a 'baby-woman,'" warns a Savant; "who will never grow up!"

And right on top of that, another Psychologist announces that nearly all of us—men and women both—are morons at heart.

* * *

Helen Rowland

And when you have observed a lot of women in a beauty parlor, or at a bargain sale, and watched a lot of men at a baseball game or a political convention you are more than half inclined to believe him.

* * *

Yet when a "baby-doll" passes sixteen she does lose her interest in dolls and hoops and roller skates, and begins to worry about something besides the fishing-weather.

* * *

But a MAN is never too old to delight in showing his son how to work a mechanical toy. He goes right on playing GAMES until the last dose of medicine and the last breath!

* * *

Everything is a game to him—love, politics, work, ambition! The moment it ceases to be a game, it loses its fascination for him.

* * *

That is why a man takes his golf so seriously—and his work so lightly. To the "boy-man" his play is the business of life, and his business is play.

* * *

That's what keeps him so happy and so young. And, sometimes, it is what makes his wife so tired and so old.

The woman who marries a man ten years her junior "takes a boy to raise." But so does the woman who marries a man ten years her senior.

There is a "boy" in every man—a headstrong, irresponsible juvenile lurking under his sedate and dignified hat.

* * *

It is that boy-spirit that makes him enjoy playing "truant"—sneaking off from the office to play golf or out of the house for a poker game.

* * *

It is that which keeps him sitting up half the night reading detective stories—even after he has become President of the United States.

* * *

It is that which inspires him to tell "fish-stories" and to lie about his golf-score and to brag about his biceps.

* * *

It is that which makes him struggle into the bleachers at the baseball field and sit there yelling like an Indian and throwing up his hat.

* * *

It is that which makes him enjoy snitching things from the ice box, and taking little Willie to the circus, and cleaning his gun, and playing around his sail-boat.

* * *

And, thank heaven, it is that which makes him long for a woman's shoulder to lay his head on, and hide his face on, when he is discouraged, defeated and feeling sorry for himself!

* * *

And that is why he just naturally loves two kinds of women: the "Mother-woman," who coddles him and pets him and lets him out to PLAY; and the "Baby-woman" who understands him and plays WITH him.

* * *

If you want to make a man happy, you've got to fasten the Indian feathers on his head and make circles around him, crying "Hail, the Big Chief! See the Conquering Hero!"

* * *

"And, after all, why shouldn't the 'boy-Man' marry the 'Baby-Woman,' and be happy and young and foolish, forever? That's true companionship—knowing how to PLAY together!

For Mother of Eleven

Editor Helping Hand:

Once more I am writing you about some clothing I have to give to some one who is in need and can make use of it. I have coats, dresses, shoes, underwear, a large assortment. If there really is some family who is in need and can call for them I will be at home every morning and evening this week.

MRS. A. M. Y.

Thank you. The writers of both appeals you included live so far from Boston it would be impossible for them to call, so we are sending instead the address of Mrs. M. F., the mother of eleven children.

A Girl's Outfit

Editor Helping Hand:

I have a pair of black oxfords, size 4, and a plaid skirt, and hand knit sweater to fit a girl about fourteen to sixteen years old. Kindly let me have an address and I will send the articles.

E. F. M.

Thank you. The things will fit Mrs. M. R.'s daughter. All in the family are out of work.

Appeal From Mary

Editor Helping Hand:

I am the oldest of nine children and mother cannot keep us in clothes. If you will help us out, as father is not working steady, I would be very thankful. I have five brothers, aged thirteen, eleven, nine, eight, and six and three sisters three, four, and five and I am fourteen.

MARY.

A Sailor's Mother

Editor Helping Hand:

I am a sailor in the U. S. N., stationed at Newport, R. I. I am writing you seeking help for my mother and family. I am married myself so I cannot do very much in helping them, though I do as much as I can. Mother is very stout and wears size 46, and 6 in shoes. There are three little children and my sister who is seventeen and has a weak heart so cannot work. The children are destitute for clothing. They are boys, twelve, and nine and little Dollie who is 6. They take 3½ and 13 in shoes for the boys, and Dollie takes 11.

W. P. W.

Now They Can Ride

Editor Helping Hand:

I notice in the American a letter signed Mrs. W. E. B. asking for a baby carriage. I have one in very good condition I would be glad to pass along to someone who needed it. As it is a large one it might be used more advantageously in a family where there are two babies. I used to put my two in together.

MRS. A. G. H.

Thank you. As Mrs. W. E. B., has already been supplied we are sending the address of N. M., who has four little children.

Listen to This Boy

Editor Helping Hand:

I am a boy ten years old and I have a baby sister one year old. My daddy doesn't work very steady. He does shoe work and my mother had to go to work afternoons to try and help with the grocery and rent. And we don't have anything left to buy shoes with. I wear size 13½ and my mother wears size 3½ or 4. There is a hole in each one of my shoes and my baby sister needs some bands to keep her warm because she is getting her teeth now, and the ones she has are too small and have holes in them from safety pins. If the Helping Hand can help us a little bit my mother will feel happy and I will be very thankful. P. S.—I got promoted in the seventh grade.

Addresses Wanted

Editor Helping Hand:

Mail has been returned to us addressed to Mrs. L. F. McA., Cambridge, who offered help to Mrs. S. W., and from Mrs. E. F. M., Brookline, who had something for Mrs. A. S. T. G. Will they help us by sending their correct addresses?

THE RHYMING OPTIMIST

By Aline Michaelis

SWIFTLY Summer passes. [illegible] over hills and meadows, half the year is gone! All too brief in seeming days since New Year came! time with pleasure teeming, life a merry game. Youth with sweets is tripping like a dew-drenched flower; but the sands are slipping, surely, hour by hour. Tides are ebbing, flowing; moon must wax and wane; seasons coming, going, to the year's refrain. Time for sowing, reaping, time for work and play, then a time for sleeping at the close of day! Grasp the good life offers with an eager hand; drain the golden coffers, view the fairest land. Joy in all its gladness ere the bright days wane, lose no time in sadness or the ways of pain. But [illegible] be sure in choosing that your choice is wise, run no risk of losing life's most precious prize. Listen, lads and lasses: while the sunlight lies on the nodding grasses and the butterflies, while the months are bringing golden days and long, while the fields are ringing with the bluebirds' song, take your fill of pleasure, but do not forget, work's the rarest treasure life has offered yet! Sweet is friendship's greeting, but at close of day joys may prove but fleeting, friends may turn away. But, gay lads and lasses, there is work to do till the sunlight passes and your day is through; work for idle hours, work for empty hands, sweet as sun-kissed flowers in the Summer lands.

WORDS OF THE WISE MEN

He is wise who knows the sources of knowledge—who knows who has written and where it is to be found.

Put this restriction on your pleasures—be cautious that they hurt no creature that has life.

A man who is not able to make a bow to his own conscience every morning is hardly in a condition to respectfully salute the world at any other time of the day.

DR. FRANK CRANE ON CRIME---A DISEASE

By DR. FRANK CRANE

A STRIKING case of kleptomania occurred in Chicago recently. The wife of a millionaire was arrested for stealing.

She lived in a palatial home, and had maids and butlers and other servants to wait upon her. She had no need for money, as her husband willingly supplied all she could reasonably spend, even for luxuries.

But a strange impulse obsessed her. She applied for a position as a maid in a strange house, and was accepted because of her refined appearance. This she did at several places. In each instance she looted the home during the absence of the family and carried the things away in her own automobile. A neighbor woman saw the maid going away with the sedan full of plunder and notified her employer. The kleptomaniac was arrested, and at police headquarters she broke down and confessed.

The woman was forty-four years old and had four children of her own.

Her husband, although dazed by the shock of seeing his wife a kleptomaniac, hurried to her side and declared that he would stand by her.

This incident is full of instruction for those who are capable of learning. It emphasizes the truth that crime is a disease to be cured and not an act which calls for retribution.

In such a case we already acknowledge its pathological character by giving it a medical name; kleptomania. We are recognizing that it is a mental disorder, something to be healed.

In former ages anyone who stole would have been seized and afflicted more or less cruelly.

Little by little the world is learning that vengeance, punishment and retaliation cure nothing. Kerosene will not put out a fire.

This unfortunate woman, surrounded by the protection of her husband and her loyal friends, will probably be treated by scientific means in a hospital or elsewhere until her affliction is removed.

She is not only unfortunate, but also very fortunate, for there are thousands of other lawbreakers who have no such friends, who are seized upon by the agents of society, haled into court, thrown into prison and treated with every form of harshness as enemies to be punished, and not as cripples to be cured.

Some day or other we are going to get the normal, sane and healthy view in regard to all crime.

GARRETT P. SERVISS ON TEACHER OF KINGS

By Garrett P. Serviss

Famous Astronomer and Writer on Scientific Topics of Popular Interest.

IN our day the kings—the few that are left—have learned to be humble, at least in appearance, but it was not so in the days of Louis XIV. However, a man whose statue I always go to look at when I am in Dijon, the ancient capital of the proud dukes of Burgundy, dared to teach even the "roi soleil," the "sun king," who ruled France "by divine right" for seventy-five long years, that he was no nearer akin to God than other people are.

This man was Bossuet, the famous preacher, than whom, perhaps, the world never saw a greater master of the spoken word. As fast as kings, queens, princes, and great rulers of France died, Bossuet preached their funeral sermons, and told the truth about them to their families, who, of course, knew much of it already.

Bossuet was so solemn in his manner, so majestic in his language, and so magnificent in the excursions of his imagination, that they all bowed to his words as to a voice speaking from heaven. In the white marble statue that they have recently set up in Dijon, to honor this great son of their city, the sculptor has finely reproduced the aspect of the matchless orator when the monarch and court sat spellbound at his feet, while he seemed to speak to God and for God, the one, only Ruler.

Bossuet himself accepted the doctrine of divine right of kings, though he never wished them to deem themselves anything more than mere mortal instruments. And it may be that his wonderful sermons, leaking out to the ears of the common people, did more than historians have ever noted to plant the seeds of democracy. Thus men of wide powers continually do good that they have not intended and not dreamed of.

Bossuet taught his king to be humble before God; but it would have surpassed the reach of his imagination to conceive of a king humble before his people. His idea was the idea of his time, viz, that the people are not to rule but to be ruled.

But Bossuet's message was not alone to kings and rulers. I am not much of a reader of sermons, but I have read some of Bossuet's sermons again and again. The magnificence of some of their thoughts is indescribable. They inspire religion not by threats of hell, but by awakening a desire for immortality, an ambition to live on and on, progressing higher and higher, and conquering time and death, which appertain only to things that pass and end. Bossuet's description in his sermon on the death of Michel Le Teller of the essential worthlessness of everything that comes to an end, seems to me as sublime as anything that was ever put into speech. It is too fine for translation. Whoever attentively reads it must either believe in human immortality or else in the utter futility of our existence.

What changes Bossuet would have made in some of his writings if he had had the advantage of modern scientific education I do not presume to say; but I am sure that the essential character and power of his teaching would not have been altered. That which is temporal he could always allow for; but he stood fast by the eternal.

Once-Overs

DON'T BE AFRAID TO TACKLE A PROPOSITION

YOU are always talking about the failures you have made.

You know every detail of—your failure.

Instead of taking up so much valuable time hashing and rehashing to your friends every fact incidental to your failures, thus impressing your mind again anad again with essentials to failure, why not think more about the details which might have made you a success?

It is a mistaken idea that you may thus get a little pity for yourself.

Those who hear of your hard luck, as you relate it, are more than ever sure that you are to blame for your failures, so it works directly against you.

Backers and employers are looking for men who have made successes.

They want only success thoughts in their own minds when they advance money or material for you to manipulate.

Every time you speak of a failure you have lessened someone's confidence in you and your ability.

Give the impression that there is much fight in you to get to the top.

Don't be afraid to tackle a proposition, and then this spirit will win.
